Newburgh Span Survey Okayed

Robert Hoe, of Poughkeepsie, yesterday was reelected chairman and Dr. John L. Edwards, of Hudson, vice-chairman of the New York Bridge Authority which also authorized use of money for surveys to determine the site of the proposed Newburgh-Beacon bridge.

William K. Hagginbothom, of Catskill, was reappointed executive secretary, and Hawkins Delafield & Wood, of New York, was named general and bond counsel to the authority.

Dr. Edwards presided yesterday in the absence of Chairman Hoe, who is in Florida. Other members present were Jay LeFevre, of New Paltz, Harry Cohen, of Newburgh and Neal Brandow, of Catskill.

SECRETARY Hagginbothom was authorized by the authority to contact engineering firms for estimates of cost of preliminary plans, land surveys, test borings and designs for the Newburgh-Beacon bridge.

Money for this work will come from a development fund set up by the anthority in conjunction with the recent $21,000,000 issue of "bridge revenue bonds." These were sold March 9 at Poughkeepsie and Harriman Ripley Co., of New York was low bidder.

AN INITIAL deposit of $200,000 will be made in the development fund of the Newburgh-Beacon bridge project from receipts of the bond issue. The total of the fund will ultimately be $1,200,000.

The authority announced that the bonds will be transferred to Harriman Ripley Co., at 9:30 a. m., March 31 in the office of Bankers Trust Co., New York, trustees for the bridge authority. The low bid on the bonds was $20,793,780, and the interest rate was 2.1433 per cent.

THE AUTHORITY reported, when it issued notice of the bond sale, that the bonds were to be used for construction of the Kingston-Rhinebeck bridge, to set up a fund for preliminary work on the proposed Newburgh project and for other incidental purposes.

Sub-structure of the Kingston bridge, estimated to cost $4,660,491.66, is now under way. Work has been resumed in the river piers and those on the west bank are nearing completion. Work on the east side of the river is expected to be resumed soon.

Cost of the super-structure is estimated at $9,693,360.44. Other incidental costs such as paving of approaches, planning and surveys bring the total cost of the span to $19,733,428.

Blizzards Are Still Covering Montana Area

(By The Associated Press)

Most of the storm-battered areas in the eastern half of the nation got a relief from wet and cold weather today but blizzards still whipped Montana eastward along the border to Minnesota.

Snow, with winds of 30 to 40 MPH, measured nearly a foot in Montana. The drifting snow blocked many country roads. Some schools in northwestern Montana were closed. It was one of the worst post-winter blizzards in three years. Snow falls in northern Minnesota were around 2 to 3 inches.

THE SNOW AND below zero readings extended across the northern border from northwestern Minnesota to the Rockies in Montana. Coldest spot early today was Cut Bank, Mont., with 8 below zero. Readings were near zero in much of the state yesterday and little relief from the cold and snow was expected for at least 24 hours.

The cold air moved southward and extended to the Texas Panhandle, Central Missouri and Central Illinios. Readings were in the 50s in the southern border states except for a few 60s in extreme southern Texas and the 70s in southern Florida. It was 76 at Key West, Fla.

Harriman Asks Auto Inspections Put Off

Cites Inconvenience to Motorists Since Few Stations Desire Licenses

Albany, March 24 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman today called on the Legislature to postpone for one year compulsory automobile safety inspections, scheduled to begin May 1.

Harriman said the cost of mandatory inspections to motorists would be "substantial," that few qualified service stations had applied for licenses to make inspections and that the program would cause "great inconvenience" to many motorists.

"No doubt this legislation was passed with good intentions, but I think it is clear that it was proposed and enacted without full study of all its aspects," the governor said in a message to the Legislature.

A LAW ENACTED last year at the request of the then Gov. Thomas E. Dewey requires motorists to have their cars checked twice a year at private garages.

In order to stay on the road, automobiles would have to be approved by private inspectors before Sept. 1 of this year. Motorists can begin getting cars inspected May 1.

Harriman said it had been estimated that 15,000 inspection stations would be needed but that only 5,000 applications "have been received so far, and not all of these from qualified applicants."

HE SAID inspection fees listed so far with the Motor Vehicle Bureau averaged $2.35 an inspection. That, he said, would cost the state's drivers more than 20 million dollars a year.

"This delegation of the state's authority to private persons," Harriman said, "has led to widespread public concern over the possibility of abuses and favoritism in the process of inspection and repair. No avenue of appeal is provided for aggrieved motorists."

Harriman said it had been assumed by some defenders of the present law—who include the Republican leaders of the Legislature—that compulsory safety inspections would be the "key-

Advisory Group Named to Plan Jobs for Oldsters

Albany, March 24 (AP)—Sen. Thomas C. Desmond today appointed a 14-member advisory committee he said would "embark on a new program to create employment opportunities for our oldsters."

The Newburgh Republican said the advisory committee of senior consultants, whose members' ages range from 63 to 86, would assist the joint legislative committee on problems of the aging. Desmond is chairman of the legislative committee.

"THE ADVISORY committee will give counsel to older people who wish to establish or re-establish themselves in business but who need guidance in financing, in design of manufactured products, in standards to be met and in marketing what they produce for sale," the senator explained.

He said the committee would study the utilization of older workers in the state and would serve as a guidance and referral agency for older men and women who wished to establish their own businesses.

The advisory committee comprises:

Laurence A. Hawkins, 78, president of the Mohawk Development Service, Schenectady; Frederick H. Evans, 75, engineer and designer, Poughkeepsie; John Wellington, 82, retired newspaper editor, Rochester; Harry A. Winne, 68, retired General Electric Co. executive, Schenectady; Harold P. Winchester, 63, retired treasurer of Williams Press, Albany.

40,000-Mile Highway Is Urged to Cut Accidents

New York, March 24 (AP)—Bertram D. Tallamy, chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority, has urged a 40,000-mile national highway system coupled with an emergency road service program to reduce auto accidents.

Tallamy, speaking yesterday before the 16th Annual Convention of the New York State Assn. of Highway Engineers, endorsed the Eisenhower administration's proposed highway program but added:

"Also, provision must be worked out with private enterprise for the normal servicing of vehicles.

"Our experience (with the thruway) indicates that there is an entirely new concept developing of services necessary for an interstate system."

"Must" requirements for a road network, he said, include facilities for aiding disabled vehicles with ambulance and fire-fighting equipment similar to those used on expressways.

He told some 1,200 persons at the meeting that emergency road service to give quick aid to stranded motorists would prevent many rear-end collisions. During February on the Buffalo-Harriman thruway section, he said, more than 2,400 emergency calls received prompt attention.

Figures as of March 15, he said, showed 5,250,000 individual motor trips traveling 297,000,000 miles on the thruway since last June 24.

Other figures he cited were: Traffic now runs more than one million miles a day; about $4,000,000 has been paid in tolls; and $28,675 worth of licenses have been sold to New York state residents (at $20 per license fee).

Tallamy said the trucking industry "is sending more payloads over the thruway every single week."

All previous thruway statistics, he said, would be "dwarfed" by summer vacation traffic figures this year.

Another speaker was Henry Ten Hagen, chief engineer of the State Department of Public Works.

While the proposed seven-year, $750,000,000 state road program imposed a heavy construction project on state engineers, he said, he is sure it will be carried out successfully.

City Light Bill to Be Cut $1,875 by Early Payment

Kingston will save $1,875 on its annual electric bill as the result of action by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

On suggestion of Mayor Frederick H. Stang, as president of the board, it was voted to pay a full year's bill in advance instead of monthly as formerly, and the board authorized payment of about $60,000 for the balance of this year to the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp.

"In my opinion, it is good business to pay this money in advance and make the city $1,800," the mayor said. The money is appropriated and available at the start of each year. The normal annual bill in recent years has been about $68,500. Three per cent is saved on the advance payment, and the saving will be higher on a full year's bill.

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, in a letter to Commissioner Raymond L. Whitbeck, of the light committee, said he had learned that a pole only eight or ten feet high was originally on the site. This type, he said, was obsolete and no longer available. The light, he said, will illuminate the intersection and a parking area near it. Commissioner Whitbeck said he felt the light was urgently needed on the site.

The board, on recommendation of Steuding, authorized appointment of six new public works drivers from a civil service eligibility list of eight names.

Addition of the men to the public works department, Steuding said, would enable the city to keep in stride with its budget of work for at least a year.

THOSE NAMED were Elson L. Roosa, 498 Washington avenue; Arthur C. McGinnis, 353 Washington avenue; William J. Bruck, 208 Delaware avenue; Salvatore M. Carchidi, 137

Prelude Is Suggested On Parley

'Big Three' Talk Asked by George

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Sen. George (D.-Ga.) called today for new efforts to achieve free world unity as a prelude to a possible Big Four meeting this year on world peace.

Agreeing such unity is needed, Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) said in a separate interview it might be well to hold a premliminary "Big Three conference to iron out policy differences before any full dress talks with Russia.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has advocated a top level meeting of the United States, Russia, Britain and France as soon as the West European defense setup is ratified and the way cleared for Germany to rearm.

HE SAID he feels President Eisenhower's news conference comments yesterday indicate the President is willing to meet with the chiefs of other governments "if there is a reasonable hope of getting something done."

"After the Paris agreements for arming Germany have been ratified, I hope that work can be started on an agenda for a high level conference," George said. "I would hope that such an agenda could be developed by fall.

"TO MY MIND, it would be of tremendous value to ascertain how we and our friends are standing. I am afraid we don't know enough about what Great Britain is thinking or what the French are thinking. A conference with them would help us."

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he interpreted Eisenhower's remarks as indicating the President always is willing to meet with the Russians but wants some advance indication such a session would be fruitful.

"WE HAD BETTER get some unity among the free world allies before we have any such conference," he said. "There also should be a canvass of congressional sentiment about what American representatives would be prepared to discuss with the Russians."

Knowland has cautioned against top level Big Four talks on the ground that "appeasement allies" might agree to concessions for the Russians, leaving the United States alone in opposition.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a foreign relations committee member, said he agrees with Eisenhower's statement that there should be an exploration at lower diplomatic levels before there can be any heads-of-state meeting.

"WE WILL HAVE to approach any conference of this kind with a high degree of unanimity among the free nations if we are to accomplish anything," he said.

Sparkman added he fears release of the 1945 Yalta conference documents will make it more difficult to get beneficial results out of any diplomatic meeting.

"A lot of the flexibility of any conference is going to be lost if the participants fear that everything they may say is an aside—or even what they think—is going to be published later," he said.

Paul V. McNutt Dies, Ex-Indiana Leader

Prominent Democrat Began Career In Public as National Legion Head

McNutt, ill about six moths, was flown home from Manila about two weeks ago, interrupting an around-the-world cruise with Mrs. McNutt.

Both his wife and his daughter, Louise, were with him when he died at his Fifth avenue apartment about 8:30 a. m.

Cause of death was not disclosed.

McNutt had not been active in public affairs in recent years but maintained his interest in Democratic party affairs.

PAUL V. McNUTT

HIS BUSINESS interests were mainly in the insurance field and he was counsel to several international insurance agencies.

McNutt first came into national prominence in 1928 when chosen commander of the American Legion. From that springboard he went into politics, became governor of Indiana and a presidential aspirant.

HIS WHITE HOUSE ambition, which he harbored from early boyhood, glowed the brightest prior to the 1940 Democratic national convention. McNutt toured the nation then, expounding his theories of government. But his candidacy was conditionally on Franklin D. Roosevelt's not seeking a third term.

When Roosevelt decided to run again, McNutt dropped out of the picture and his presidential chances faded away. He himself had urged the President's renomination because of what he termed his "preeminent ability" to deal with the critical European situation.

DURING WORLD WAR 2 McNutt served as federal security administrator, director of defense, health and welfare services and chairman of the War Manpower Commission. His services won him a medal for merit from President Harry S. Truman.

McNutt, who had been high commissioner to the Philippines in 1937-39 and again in 1945-46, was appointed first American ambassador after the islands gained their independence. It was he who hauled down the American flag at the independence ceremony in 1946. He held the ambassadorship for about a year, resigning in the spring of 1947.

He then entered private law practice in New York city and Washington. Insurance was his major law interest.

Van's Drug Store which has been located at 36 John street for the past 25 years will vacate that location shortly and move to Port Ewen, it was announced yesterday by John H. Van Tassell. The Port Ewen drug store will open about April first but the fountain service at the John street store will continue to operate until Saturday, April 16.

EQUIPMENT in the John street store is being moved to Port Ewen where Van Tassell will open a drug and prescription store about April first in the Crook building on Broadway opposite the fire house. Expiration of the lease at the John street address prompted the move, Van Tassell said. A delivery service will be maintained from the Port Ewen store to serve customers and clients in the Kingston area.

Hold Military Talks

Taipei, Formosa, March 24 (AP)—Senior American and Chinese Nationalist officers responsible for the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores began a new series of conferences today on Nationalist military requirements. U. S. officers taking part are Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet; Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, head of the Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG), and Rear Adm. Frederick N. Kivette, commander of the Formosa Strait patrol.

Democrats To Fight Proposals

Air Force Says Increases to Hurt

Albany, March 24 (AP)—Vote-heavy Republicans today closed ranks behind a GOP-ruled commission's proposals to loosen state control of rents in five upstate counties and scrap them in 17 others.

The temporary commission on rents and rental conditions adopted the final draft of its rent control bill yesterday, after two weeks of off-again-on-again discussion on how to extend rent control another two years.

Charles Abrams, state rent administrator, attacked the measure as one that "came out of a pressure cooker and will be bitter fare to the families affected."

ABRAMS PLEDGED that Democratic minorities would fight the proposals when they come to the floor of the Legislature next week. Gov. Harriman advocates stronger rent controls.

The draft approved yesterday would continue the basic rent control law until June 30, 1957. It would leave the law virtually "as is" in New York city and seven other counties, tightening somewhat the powers of the rent administrator.

THE COMMISSION approved the bill for introduction in the Legislature by an 11-6 vote, all the Democrats, including Abrams, opposing it.

Abrams contended that the commission had bypassed Harriman's requests for what the rent chief termed "provisions for stringent laws against fraud."

He maintained also that the group had closed its ears to "the request of the air force to continue protections" around Sampson Air Force Base, near Geneva; Mitchel AFB, Hempstead; Stewart AFB, Newburgh; Griffiss AFB, Rome; Plattsburgh AFB, and Niagara Falls Municipal Air Base.

HOWEVER, the GOP plan calls for retaining controls in Clinton county, where the Plattsburgh base is, and keeping partial controls in Oneida county, site of the Griffiss base.

Orange county, where the Stewart base is, already has been decontrolled.

Abrams quoted Air Force Headquarters in Washington as saying that "an increase in rentals will cause serious hardship to our families living on all major air installations in New York state."

But Joseph F. Carlino, commission chairman and GOP majority leader in the Assembly, said that none of the areas near air bases had been designated "critical defense areas" by the federal government.

IF THEY SHOULD be so designated, Carlino said, the Legislature will "take care of them."

Twenty-six of the state's 62 counties already have been decontrolled. They would not be affected by the bill. The other

State of N.Y. Bank Has Option in Ulster Town

An option was taken today on a lot at the corner of Albany avenue extension and Guyton street in the town of Ulster for erecting a branch of the State of New York National Bank of Kingston, provided the state superintendent of banks approves an application now pending for permission to establish the branch.

The lot is owned by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Young, has a 100-foot frontage on Albany avenue extension and is 117 feet deep. It is presently vacant.

The proposed branch location is situated in the fast-growing section north of the city line. It adjoins the property of Van's Washer Sales and Service, and is near the site on which the Shell Oil Company will build a large service station, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Shell. Also nearby is the site on which the new Town of Ulster elementary school will be constructed.

The State of New York National Bank has pending before the state superintendent of banks an application for permission to establish a branch office in the town of Ulster.

If permission is granted, a new bbuilding will be put up on the lot. Details of the proposed building are not completed, but the corner location appears suitable for drive-in facilities.

A committee of directors of the bank negotiated the option. Members of the committee are Pratt Boice, Peter Black and Allan L. Hanstein. John H. Saxe is president of the bank.

May Be Better On Farms in '55

Ithaca, March 24 (AP)—The dean of the State College of Agriculture declared today that the economic outlook for farmers in 1955 "justified an attitude of conservative, watchful optimism."

Dean W. I. Myers of the college at Cornell University said in a speech prepared for delivery at the university's Farm and Home Week that he believed New York farmers now were experiencing the worst of what he termed the present recession.

"This year certainly will be no worse overall tor New York agriculture than 1954," he said, "and we believe it may be a little better."

Kingston will save $1,875 on its annual electric bill as the result of action by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

On suggestion of Mayor Frederick H. Stang, as president of the board, it was voted to pay a full year's bill in advance instead of monthly as formerly, and the board authorized payment of about $60,000 for the balance of this year to the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp.

"In my opinion, it is good business to pay this money in advance and make the city $1,800," the mayor said. The money is appropriated and available at the start of each year. The normal annual bill in recent years has been about $68,500. Three per cent is saved on the advance payment, and the saving will be higher on a full year's bill.

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, in a letter to Commissioner Raymond L. Whitbeck, of the light committee, said he had learned that a pole only eight or ten feet high was originally on the site. This type, he said, was obsolete and no longer available. The light, he said, will illuminate the intersection and a parking area near it. Commissioner Whitbeck said he felt the light was urgently needed on the site.

The board, on recommendation of Steuding, authorized appointment of six new public works drivers from a civil service eligibility list of eight names.

Addition of the men to the public works department, Steuding said, would enable the city to keep in stride with its budget of work for at least a year.

THOSE NAMED were Elson L. Roosa, 498 Washington avenue; Arthur C. McGinnis, 353 Washington avenue; William J. Bruck, 208 Delaware avenue; Salvatore M. Carchidi, 137

Prelude Is Suggested On Parley

'Big Three' Talk Asked by George

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Sen. George (D.-Ga.) called today for new efforts to achieve free world unity as a prelude to a possible Big Four meeting this year on world peace.

Agreeing such unity is needed, Sen. Knowland (R.-Calif.) said in a separate interview it might be well to hold a premliminary "Big Three conference to iron out policy differences before any full dress talks with Russia.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has advocated a top level meeting of the United States, Russia, Britain and France as soon as the West European defense setup is ratified and the way cleared for Germany to rearm.

HE SAID he feels President Eisenhower's news conference comments yesterday indicate the President is willing to meet with the chiefs of other governments "if there is a reasonable hope of getting something done."

"After the Paris agreements for arming Germany have been ratified, I hope that work can be started on an agenda for a high level conference," George said. "I would hope that such an agenda could be developed by fall.

"TO MY MIND, it would be of tremendous value to ascertain how we and our friends are standing. I am afraid we don't know enough about what Great Britain is thinking or what the French are thinking. A conference with them would help us."

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he interpreted Eisenhower's remarks as indicating the President always is willing to meet with the Russians but wants some advance indication such a session would be fruitful.

"WE HAD BETTER get some unity among the free world allies before we have any such conference," he said. "There also should be a canvass of congressional sentiment about what American representatives would be prepared to discuss with the Russians."

Knowland has cautioned against top level Big Four talks on the ground that "appeasement allies" might agree to concessions for the Russians, leaving the United States alone in opposition.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), a foreign relations committee member, said he agrees with Eisenhower's statement that there should be an exploration at lower diplomatic levels before there can be any heads-of-state meeting.

"WE WILL HAVE to approach any conference of this kind with a high degree of unanimity among the free nations if we are to accomplish anything," he said.

Sparkman added he fears release of the 1945 Yalta conference documents will make it more difficult to get beneficial results out of any diplomatic meeting.

"A lot of the flexibility of any conference is going to be lost if the participants fear that everything they may say is an aside—or even what they think—is going to be published later," he said.

Paul V. McNutt Dies, Ex-Indiana Leader

Prominent Democrat Began Career In Public as National Legion Head

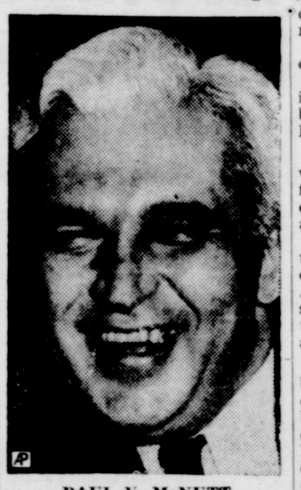
McNutt, ill about six moths, was flown home from Manila about two weeks ago, interrupting an around-the-world cruise with Mrs. McNutt.

Both his wife and his daughter, Louise, were with him when he died at his Fifth avenue apartment about 8:30 a. m.

Cause of death was not disclosed.

McNutt had not been active in public affairs in recent years but maintained his interest in Democratic party affairs.



PAUL V. McNUTT

HIS BUSINESS interests were mainly in the insurance field and he was counsel to several international insurance agencies.

McNutt first came into national prominence in 1928 when chosen commander of the American Legion. From that springboard he went into politics, became governor of Indiana and a presidential aspirant.

HIS WHITE HOUSE ambition, which he harbored from early boyhood, glowed the brightest prior to the 1940 Democratic national convention. McNutt toured the nation then, expounding his theories of government. But his candidacy was conditionally on Franklin D. Roosevelt's not seeking a third term.

When Roosevelt decided to run again, McNutt dropped out of the picture and his presidential chances faded away. He himself had urged the President's renomination because of what he termed his "preeminent ability" to deal with the critical European situation.

DURING WORLD WAR 2 McNutt served as federal security administrator, director of defense, health and welfare services and chairman of the War Manpower Commission. His services won him a medal for merit from President Harry S. Truman.

McNutt, who had been high commissioner to the Philippines in 1937-39 and again in 1945-46, was appointed first American ambassador after the islands gained their independence. It was he who hauled down the American flag at the independence ceremony in 1946. He held the ambassadorship for about a year, resigning in the spring of 1947.

He then entered private law practice in New York city and Washington. Insurance was his major law interest.

Van's Drug Store which has been located at 36 John street for the past 25 years will vacate that location shortly and move to Port Ewen, it was announced yesterday by John H. Van Tassell. The Port Ewen drug store will open about April first but the fountain service at the John street store will continue to operate until Saturday, April 16.

EQUIPMENT in the John street store is being moved to Port Ewen where Van Tassell will open a drug and prescription store about April first in the Crook building on Broadway opposite the fire house. Expiration of the lease at the John street address prompted the move, Van Tassell said. A delivery service will be maintained from the Port Ewen store to serve customers and clients in the Kingston area.

Hold Military Talks

Taipei, Formosa, March 24 (AP)—Senior American and Chinese Nationalist officers responsible for the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores began a new series of conferences today on Nationalist military requirements. U. S. officers taking part are Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U. S. 7th Fleet; Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, head of the Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG), and Rear Adm. Frederick N. Kivette, commander of the Formosa Strait patrol.

Democrats To Fight Proposals

Air Force Says Increases to Hurt

Albany, March 24 (AP)—Vote-heavy Republicans today closed ranks behind a GOP-ruled commission's proposals to loosen state control of rents in five upstate counties and scrap them in 17 others.

The temporary commission on rents and rental conditions adopted the final draft of its rent control bill yesterday, after two weeks of off-again-on-again discussion on how to extend rent control another two years.

Charles Abrams, state rent administrator, attacked the measure as one that "came out of a pressure cooker and will be bitter fare to the families affected."

ABRAMS PLEDGED that Democratic minorities would fight the proposals when they come to the floor of the Legislature next week. Gov. Harriman advocates stronger rent controls.

The draft approved yesterday would continue the basic rent control law until June 30, 1957. It would leave the law virtually "as is" in New York city and seven other counties, tightening somewhat the powers of the rent administrator.

THE COMMISSION approved the bill for introduction in the Legislature by an 11-6 vote, all the Democrats, including Abrams, opposing it.

Abrams contended that the commission had bypassed Harriman's requests for what the rent chief termed "provisions for stringent laws against fraud."

He maintained also that the group had closed its ears to "the request of the air force to continue protections" around Sampson Air Force Base, near Geneva; Mitchel AFB, Hempstead; Stewart AFB, Newburgh; Griffiss AFB, Rome; Plattsburgh AFB, and Niagara Falls Municipal Air Base.

HOWEVER, the GOP plan calls for retaining controls in Clinton county, where the Plattsburgh base is, and keeping partial controls in Oneida county, site of the Griffiss base.

Orange county, where the Stewart base is, already has been decontrolled.

Abrams quoted Air Force Headquarters in Washington as saying that "an increase in rentals will cause serious hardship to our families living on all major air installations in New York state."

But Joseph F. Carlino, commission chairman and GOP majority leader in the Assembly, said that none of the areas near air bases had been designated "critical defense areas" by the federal government.

IF THEY SHOULD be so designated, Carlino said, the Legislature will "take care of them."

Twenty-six of the state's 62 counties already have been decontrolled. They would not be affected by the bill. The other

State of N.Y. Bank Has Option in Ulster Town

An option was taken today on a lot at the corner of Albany avenue extension and Guyton street in the town of Ulster for erecting a branch of the State of New York National Bank of Kingston, provided the state superintendent of banks approves an application now pending for permission to establish the branch.

The lot is owned by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Young, has a 100-foot frontage on Albany avenue extension and is 117 feet deep. It is presently vacant.

The proposed branch location is situated in the fast-growing section north of the city line. It adjoins the property of Van's Washer Sales and Service, and is near the site on which the Shell Oil Company will build a large service station, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Shell. Also nearby is the site on which the new Town of Ulster elementary school will be constructed.

The State of New York National Bank has pending before the state superintendent of banks an application for permission to establish a branch office in the town of Ulster.

If permission is granted, a new bbuilding will be put up on the lot. Details of the proposed building are not completed, but the corner location appears suitable for drive-in facilities.

A committee of directors of the bank negotiated the option. Members of the committee are Pratt Boice, Peter Black and Allan L. Hanstein. John H. Saxe is president of the bank.

May Be Better On Farms in '55

Ithaca, March 24 (AP)—The dean of the State College of Agriculture declared today that the economic outlook for farmers in 1955 "justified an attitude of conservative, watchful optimism."

Dean W. I. Myers of the college at Cornell University said in a speech prepared for delivery at the university's Farm and Home Week that he believed New York farmers now were experiencing the worst of what he termed the present recession.

"This year certainly will be no worse overall tor New York agriculture than 1954," he said, "and we believe it may be a little better."

Parking Situation Subject of Group

Woodstock, March 23—Discussion by members of the Woodstock Business Association, at Monday's meeting at the Woodstock Motel, centered around the mounting concern over the parking situation in the village. All members present indicated that it is one of the most important issues at the present time.

The secretary was directed to communicate with Supervisor Joseph Fitzsimmons to arrange for a conference to investigate the matter which will be presented to the Town Board later for suggestions and attention. The committee appointed consists of Paul Fenster, Joseph Holdridge, Harry Alpern, Charles Greco, Joseph Deutsch, William Mower and Karl Cousins. The committee will report its findings at the next meeting.

In view of the success of the last dinner dance held by the association at Deanie's in February, it was suggested that another social function be held in early June. It will be an outdoor supper, probably in the form of a chicken barbecue. Several locations were discussed but nothing definite was decided. It is planned that the dinner will not only be for members of the Business Association and their friends, but with the entire community welcome to attend. It is to be held on a Sunday afternoon. The committee in charge will be Joseph Deutsch, William Mower and Mary Motolese.

Blind Attorney Guest of Rotary

Woodstock, March 23—Dr. O. Leonard Larsen, New York attorney, who lost his sight at the age of 14, and graduated from Columbia University as a doctor of law, and Phi Beta Kappa, was the guest speaker at the Rotary Club meeting Monday night at Deanie's. Dr. Larsen, who is the executive director of the Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, Inc., Forest Hills, had with him his own guide dog "Sitka" which is part shepherd and part huskie.

Dr. Larsen explained that the guide dogs are usually female in they are docile and do not chase other dogs or are not attacked by them. A film titled Second Sight was shown which showed how the dog is selected, trained and schooled with his master. The dog works with his master for a month at the school. The dogs are taken through traffic, subjected to sharp noises so that they will not be alarmed by the backfires of vehicles.

The average service of a dog is eight years, he said, and training of a dog is usually started at one year of age. It costs $1200 to train a dog, he said. The shepherd is the ideal dog for the work because of its stamina and intelligence, a dog known for using its own judgment, more so than any other type of dog. A shepherd dog will disobey a command if it is likely to get its master in trouble. Their powers of concentration are greater than other dogs. A shepherd dog will watch a car a thousand feet away, while other dogs have trouble watching one a hundred feet away.

Reds Try Jazz

Vienna, Austria (AP) — The Communist rulers of Poland have bowed to western-style jazz music, Red newspapers received in Vienna reveal. "The discrimination against jazz music is over," Warsaw's Zycie Warsawy announced. At the same time, the paper assumed the sponsorship of four jazz concerts in the Polish capital. But the Communists are not admitting their change of heart in good grace. "Jazz music is not simply Negro music with wild rhythms," one Red newspaper wrote, "but rather it is the music of American Negroes, who are people threatened with mass murder and longing for freedom. Jazz must therefore be considered something like a social bill of indictment against the American rulers," the paper says. Other papers gave what apparently is the real reason for the permission for jazz. "Our youths are not content with only political songs or music depicting the progress of the working class, they also want music which amuses them," one paper said.

Dr. Larsen, who is the executive director of the Guide Dog Foundation for the Blind, Inc., Forest Hills, had with him his own guide dog "Sitka" which is part shepherd and part huskie.

Dr. Larsen explained that the guide dogs are usually female in they are docile and do not chase other dogs or are not attacked by them. A film titled Second Sight was shown which showed how the dog is selected, trained and schooled with his master. The dog works with his master for a month at the school. The dogs are taken through traffic, subjected to sharp noises so that they will not be alarmed by the backfires of vehicles.

The average service of a dog is eight years, he said, and training of a dog is usually started at one year of age. It costs $1200 to train a dog, he said. The shepherd is the ideal dog for the work because of its stamina and intelligence, a dog known for using its own judgment, more so than any other type of dog. A shepherd dog will disobey a command if it is likely to get its master in trouble. Their powers of concentration are greater than other dogs. A shepherd dog will watch a car a thousand feet away, while other dogs have trouble watching one a hundred feet away.

TRANSPARENT ADVANTAGES—An eyeful in or out of the hammock is Joan Brown, who is testing a new plastic at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The transparent hammock is only 10/1000 of an inch thick, yet it's strong enough to hold both Joan and Betty Bland, who looks good just standing there. Best thing about the hammock is that Joan can see everybody on the beach—and everybody can see her.

Reds Try Jazz

Vienna, Austria (AP) — The Communist rulers of Poland have bowed to western-style jazz music, Red newspapers received in Vienna reveal. "The discrimination against jazz music is over," Warsaw's Zycie Warsawy announced. At the same time, the paper assumed the sponsorship of four jazz concerts in the Polish capital. But the Communists are not admitting their change of heart in good grace. "Jazz music is not simply Negro music with wild rhythms," one Red newspaper wrote, "but rather it is the music of American Negroes, who are people threatened with mass murder and longing for freedom. Jazz must therefore be considered something like a social bill of indictment against the American rulers," the paper says. Other papers gave what apparently is the real reason for the permission for jazz. "Our youths are not content with only political songs or music depicting the progress of the working class, they also want music which amuses them," one paper said.

ATOMIC SCHOOL

A school near Chicago, Ill., has two unique distinctions: its students already are among the best educated in the world, and its curriculum is crucial to the future of mankind. It is the world's first school of nuclear science and engineering. It is concerned with training people in the peacetime uses of atomic energy. Its purpose is to impart to the natural scientists and engineers attending its seventh-month courses specific knowledge about how nuclear energy can be applied for use instead of for destruction.

The students at this school, established in support of President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace program, come from 20 countries. Represented are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Egypt, France, Greece, Guatemala, Indonesia, Israel, Japan, Mexico, Pakistan, the Philippines, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand.

Their studies are of particular importance because the world today is waiting to find out whether it will make of atomic energy a master or a servant. Atomic and hydrogen weapons must be seen not only as explosive forces of tremendous power, but also in terms of radiation poisoning, which conceivably could jeopardize the future of mankind. Yet atomic energy used to serve man could eliminate the very causes that lead to war and to the use of nuclear weapons.

Graduates of this school, run by the Atomic Energy Commission, the State Department and the Foreign Operations, can help ensure that nuclear energy will be used for useful purposes. In more ways than one, the hopes of the world rest on these students and this unique school.

ON THE LOCAL LEVEL

Many people neglect to play an active part in local elections and political affairs. Many who are brought to the polls by the excitement of contests for Congress, the governorship and the presidency, think that the election of judges and local officials is unimportant. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Officials on the local level make important decisions, are concerned with the spending of tax money. Because of their influence in the community they frequently wield a degree of power in state and national political affairs. It is extremely important that these officials be of the right sort, men of principle, ability and dedication. For most people their only direct contact with government is in the courts of elected judges or in the offices of local officials.

The good citizen knows that self-government is a continuous job, that the structure of the democratic institution is as strong or as weak as each level of government, from top to bottom. Not only the community, but the nation as well, benefits when citizens demonstrate a live interest in local government.

THE GET-RICH-QUICKERS

The trouble with today's speculative market may be the speculators. At a Senate committee hearing Harold E. Wood of St. Paul, Minn., chairman of the National Association of Securities Dealers, said that even if the prospectuses give all the facts, the speculators do not read them. A prospectus may say in almost so many words that a stock is worthless. If it does so, it has made "full disclosure" in the eyes of the law, and the victim who loses his money has no redress.

This recalls the story of the South Sea Bubble in 18th century England when a speculative mania raged. One daring but truthful financier offered shares in "an undertaking of great advantage, but no one is to know what it is." Investors discovered what it was, and to whose advantage when they put in their money and the financier made off with it.

Legal restrictions cannot do much for people who are determined to ruin themselves.

YALTA AND HISTORY

History has a curious way of asserting itself despite the efforts of vain men and powerful politicians to suppress the truth. Those who rewrite history to suit their private ends fail to suppress the whole truth because always somewhere, even hidden in desert sands, is another record which, in time, is uncovered. Those who would suppress archives only discover that somewhere else an archive exists, a carbon copy, a memory, a diary which points the way to truth.

Thus, for ten years, the errors of Teheran and Yalta have covered the political battlefield with the reputations of men who believe that they were wholly safe from the light of truth. Before the Yalta Conference took place, when the three aged statesmen sat in the Livadia Palace, where once the court of the Czar gamboled, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, East Finland, East Poland, Bessarabia and Bukovina had already become absorbed in the Russian Empire.

Stalin had erected Communist governments in Bulgaria, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Hungary and Albania prior to the Yalta Conference. He had also forced Communist participation in the governments of West Finland and Czechoslovakia and imperiled our position in Asia, by maintaining a Chinese Communist military force in China.

The Yalta Documents need to be read in this framework. Soviet Russia had already achieved so much with our help, with the $11,000,000,000 of Lend-Lease which Stalin told Roosevelt, at Yalta, was such a wonderful invention because it helped allies without stirring resentment in them for being aided.

It is not possible to believe that Roosevelt did not know the pattern that Stalin was cutting out of paper maps. Also, Roosevelt knew about the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact, and it should have been a guide to Stalin's Weltanschauung. In fact in the very first conversation between Roosevelt and Stalin at Yalta, Stalin made his position clear: The Earth was to be managed by the three great powers and he was taking no back-talk from any of the little nations. This is the conversation as reported by Bohlen:

"Marshal Stalin made it quite plain on a number of occasions that he felt that the three great powers which had borne the brunt of the war and had liberated from German domination the small powers should have the unanimous right to preserve the peace of the world. He said that he could serve no other interest than that of the Soviet state and people but that in the international arena the Soviet Union was prepared to pay its share in the preservation of peace. He said that it was ridiculous to believe that Albania would have an equal voice with the three great powers who had won the war and were present at this dinner. He said some of the liberated countries seemed to believe that the great powers had been forced to shed their blood in order to liberate them and that they were now scolding these great powers for failure to take into consideration the rights of these small powers."

This policy, Soviet Russia has pursued to the present day. Roosevelt is not reported to have protested against this principle of international conduct. Bohlen's notes say that he commented as follows:

". . . The President said he agreed that the great powers bore the greater responsibility and that the peace should be written by the three powers represented at this table."

It was Winston Churchill who raised his voice, as apparently he often did, for the smaller countries, particularly for Poland. Bohlen gives this credit to Churchill:

"The Prime Minister said that there was no question of the small powers dictating to the big powers but that the great nations of the world should discharge their moral responsibility and leadership and should exercise their power with moderation and great respect for the rights of the smaller nations. . . ."

But Roosevelt said nothing about the Atlantic Charter, about the rights of small nations, about justice for friend and foe. This kind of talk was for the people; the hard-headed, practical men who sat in the Livadia Palace, on the Black Sea, had no time for petty talk. They were making history—by enslaving millions to Stalin's chariot.

It is not a pretty picture, but it is one that will undoubtedly be painted in even more lurid details when all the documents are available.

ELECTRIC SHOCK TREATMENT

In recent years, treatment with electric shock has become a well-recognized and effective treatment for many forms of mental disease. The use of modern forms of quieting drugs to calm patients before these treatments has been a great step forward in advancing the use of the electric shock to more and more types of patients. How about its use with patients who have cardiac (heart) conditions present?

In the Correspondence Section of the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Gunther Wolff tells of his experience in the Camarillo State Hospital, California, where electric shock treatments were given to more than 200 elderly female patients (20 were in their eighties, and 56 between the ages of 70 and 80). What were the results? Only 10 per cent showed no improvement; 11 per cent were able to return home; 41 per cent improved so much that they were able to go home for short periods of time; and 39 per cent were able to mingle again with other patients and join in normal activity.

Dr. Wolff states that it is reasonable to assume that many of these patients had some heart degeneration and that a few had actually gone through a period of heart failure and were treated after the heart power had been built up again. The enlightening point is that in not one of these cases has any serious effect on the heart appeared after the electric shock treatment.

"This fact encouraged us to start this electric shock treatment in patients with more severe heart conditions. We selected 12 patients, of whom six were suffering from rheumatic heart condition and six had a history of coronary thrombosis and marked changes in the electrocardiograph record. All of these patients were either very combative, overactive, resistive or very depressed and melancholic, with severe feeding problems and suicidal tendencies. Their mental and physical actions were probably a much greater strain on their hearts than electric shock treatment could ever be."

What were the results? "All of these patients have greatly improved mentally and no ill effects on their hearts were observed."

Dr. Wolff feels that the name "electric shock" should be changed to "electric cure" as the word "shock" carries unpleasant ideas with it, which are not justified with the modern low voltage treatments used.

It is certainly encouraging to any of us, who may have members of our families or relatives in need of such treatment for mental conditions, to know that it can be used safely even when heart disease is present.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The battle of Echo Park is beginning to echo loudly in congressional committee rooms and behind the scenery.

What's involved here is a contest among southwestern states for control of water in the Colorado river system. From the point of view of a neutral observer, it is a perfect example of the confusion that results when attempts are made to settle interstate disputes at the local level, rather than in the national interest.

The arguments that the two sides throw at each other are vicious and in some cases misleading. Present indications are that if the controversy is settled by this Congress, it will be the result of a political log-rolling deal worthy of a Paul Bunyan.

The billion-dollar project to build two water storage dams in the upper Colorado system has been kicking around for five years. One dam would be at Glen Canyon, Ariz., 13 miles below the Utah line. The other would be at Echo Park, Colo., on the tributary Green River, three miles east of the Utah line.

THE TWO DAMS WOULD have a combined potential power capacity of a million kilowatts and provide irrigation water for over 400,000 acres of land in 11 projects. They would also store water for downstream delivery in dry years.

President Eisenhower flew over the sites during his Colorado vacation last summer and declared there was no sense in not using them. The administration program for this year calls for an initial $5 million to begin work if Congress authorizes the project.

The total cost is estimated at $902 million over a 20-year period. Revenue from the sale of power and irrigation rights would begin to repay costs after eight years.

Opposition to this project comes largely from the downstream Colorado water users of Arizona and California. Most of the fight comes from Los Angeles, which is the big user of Colorado water and Colorado power from the Hoover dam.

THIS FIGHT GOES BACK 30 years to the days when states in the Colorado basin made a compact to divide the river water between upstream and downstream users. All signed it except Arizona which, with California, wanted more.

Congress thereupon passed a limitation act, giving the downstream states 7.5 million acre-feet of water a year. A test case on this division is now before the U. S. Supreme Court.

The big complication here is that Mother Nature hasn't always cooperated on this division. Sometimes the upper Colorado can deliver 25 million acre-feet a year. Sometimes it can deliver only four million acre-feet a year.

Last year was a dry year. Power and water deliveries from Hoover Dam have been cut up to 20 per cent. California and Arizona are protesting. This is where much of the opposition to Echo Park and Glen Canyon comes from.

In making their fight, all kinds of appeals have been made. One has been to arouse national parks fans to protest that Echo Park Dam would flood out Dinosaur National Monument.

Rep. Craig Hosmer (R., Calif.) has now raised a new objection. It is that atomic power plants will soon make hydroelectric power, obsolete, so why build any more dams?

IT SO HAPPENS, however, that there is another dam project in which southern California has great interest. This is the Trinity River development in northern California.

Rep. Clair Engle (D., Calif.), chairman of the House Interior Committee, comes from the Trinity River area. He has introduced a bill to reauthorize and enlarge this project.

The Senate Interior Committee has just concluded Echo Park hearings. Chairman of this group is James E. Murray (D., Mont.).

Last year both committees approved Echo Park Dam, but the issue was not brought to a vote.

This year the word has gone out from the Senate side that unless the House approves Echo Park, the Senate will not approve Trinity River.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 24—When the Attorney General of the United States discloses publicly how the present security system recently caught a federal employe who was stealing some of the highest secrets of the United States government and turning them over to an agent of a foreign government, it would seem to be news.

Yet little or no attention has been given to a certain paragraph in a speech delivered in Boston on Monday of this week and issued to the press corps in Washington that same day. The Attorney General says:

"AN EXAMPLE of the effectiveness of the employe security program is the case of Joseph Sidney Petersen Jr. He was a trusted employe of the National Security Agency, one of our most sensitive agencies. In the course of a security check, allegations arose which could have led to his dismissal under the executive order. In the ensuing investigation, information was obtained indicating Petersen might have illegally in his possession certain highly classified documents. Under the order, the investigation immediately was referred to the FBI.

"Petersen admitted having stored such documents in his apartment, where they were recovered, and also admitted furnishing contents of the documents to representatives of another government. He was arrested and indicted on three counts of the espionage laws. He finally entered a plea of guilty to one count and was sentenced to seven years in prison."

THIS IS the first time it has been disclosed by the Department of Justice how Petersen was detected.

It is apparent that those who are trying to weaken the present security program by arguing that it is ineffective, or that it might hurt innocent persons, are not taking into account a case like that of Petersen, who was caught with the goods. To this day it has not been disclosed what other governments obtained the secret documents after they got into the hands of one foreign government that was not entitled to receive them.

Yet one editorial writer recently claimed that all this wasn't so bad after all because it was not proved that Petersen was a Communist of that he did what he did because of any Communist connections—as if it matters whether the motive can be clearly established when a security risk is proved to have betrayed his own government.

THERE IS a widespread attempt to create a smokescreen around the security procedures so that a lot of steps can be interposed which will hamstring the detection process. One of the favorite methods of attack is to argue that all "informants" should be required to identify themselves in government proceedings—something that would dry up many sources of information for the FBI.

Some well-meaning persons believe in the theory that all confidential information should be disclosed in government procedures with reference to security risks. They are mistaken, of course. But, although many of the critics have no connection with Communists or communism, their criticism does not suddenly become valid for that reason. For the aim of the Communists is to discredit the government's security program and impair the F.B.I., and they will win a big victory if government personnel hearings can be forced to adopt all the dilatory and obstructive procedures which were exhibited in Judge Medina's court when the eleven Communists were on trial. The attorney general in his Boston speech touched on this point when he said:

"IT IS BECOMING increasingly clear that the current violent attack against government witnesses and against the FBIs confidential sources of information has many of its roots in a Communist effort to stem the successful campaign against subversion."

The case of Harvey Matusow is pertinent. He now has been ordered to jail by a federal judge for contempt of court because the judge held he had lied in his attempt to reverse earlier testimony which had been corroborated by six other witnesses. The conspiracy by which Communists paid Matusow money to write a book that could be used in the plot to discredit government procedures in handling security risks now has been fully exposed and is a matter of record in a federal court in Texas.

BUT THOSE "Left Wing" writers and cartoonists who hailed Matusow's alleged change of heart with enthusiasm haven't apologized to their readers. Some have merely continued to argue that, after all, the FBI should have known Matusow wasn't truthful in the first place. But the original testimony he gave in this case was corroborated at the time, and the principal person he then accused of being a Communist has since refused to deny under oath that he was a Communist.

What the FBI and the government didn't anticipate was that the Communists would win Matusow over and that a lot of people would swallow the claim that he now was telling the truth and didn't tell the truth before.

The Communist menace will not be defeated in this country unless all Americans, irrespective of their political inclinations, recognize the techniques of communism, especially when they dupe innocent people with their propaganda.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Tucson, Arizona, March 23—I have here a collection of want-ads clipped from a paper whose editor has been a vehement campaigner against segregation in the schools and public accommodations and in favor of a new concept, "integration." This word was kept on the bench, under blankets, so to speak, until the Supreme Court handed down its decision a few months ago. I will tangle with this "integration" gag and the political conspirators who sicked it on us after I have first slapped the ears off the editor of the Arkansas Gazette, of Little Rock, the paper which pooh-poohed the disclosure that its successful candidate for governor was a student leader at "Commonwealth" College, a Communist institution in the little town of Mena. All that I have told you about that still goes and I urge on your attention the important fact that this editor was a protege of the Ford Fund for the Republic and of Paul Hoffman, its president, in the preparation of a "report" in favor of "integration." This "report" is called "The Negro and the Schools."

This editor's name is Harry S. Ashmore and his conduct puts me in mind of La Boca Grande's hypocrisy in refusing recently to attend a party at a club which was said to exclude Negroes from its membership rolls, though not necessarily from festivities on its premises. Down to the time of his pharisaical speech about "well-fed clubmen" her husband listed with pride among his clubs two which never had entertained a Negro. He was caught in this pietistical fraud and next year he dropped them from his list. He may have resigned. Maybe they kicked him out.

Ashmore's paper always refers to Negroes as Negroes or "colored." This want-ad section from his Arkansas Gazette is headed: "Colored Property, Rent," so Ashmore does not "integrate" material things. He segregates "property."

According to the morals and political principles of the New York Times and Herald Tribune and all other clarions of the same cult in the northern tier, this is "racism" and "discrimination." Under the law of New York state, approved by such journalism, it is a misdemeanor. If a New York paper printed such a segregation in its want-ads, the editor, the publisher, the stockholders, the copy-readers, printers and newsboys could be charged with being partners in a crime.

Some proponents of this concept have browbeaten owners of resort hotels to the extent that they have promised never again to specify in their ads that their places are handy by churches of Christian worship. What would happen to Harry S. Ashmore, now under subsidy of the Ford Fund for the Republic, should he publish in a New York paper a want-ad section entitled "Colored Property, Rent"? Ashmore's Little Rock Gazette, which plugged and still supports a governor who is an alumnus of a college which was closed and fined $2,500 because it was a Communist institution, also segregates Negroes in the news. If a wanted criminal is known to be a Negro, Ashmore's paper says so. Recently, a little boy was drowned near Little Rock and Mr. Ashmore's Gazette "segregated" him. It described him as a little Negro boy in the little head on a little story.

This reminds me of LaBoca's pretense that she abhors discrimination. Why can't Americans remember the history which has coursed before their very eyes?

This female's two autobiographies sold up into many thousands at high prices. She made plenty of money on them. When she wrote that stuff she had not yet settled firmly on her political line against "segregation." So she casually stated, not as admissions, but as ordinary recollections, that she found it more convenient to segregate her help, both in her private home as the wife of the assistant secretary of the navy and, 12 years later, as the wife of Franklin the great in the presidential palace of the United States. She kicked out the white help and kept the colored because they didn't get along. She discriminated against the whites.

Again, when she dozed off and got some of her beautiful teeth knocked out driving from Hyde Park to New York, she explained in print that she drowsed because she had nobody to talk to. There were two Negroes in the back seat, but apparently they were not worthy of converse with this great intellect who now loves the Negro, by the million votes. So they were segregated.

I have told it before, but few Americans realize that my late mahatma, Franklin, sold real estate plots in his commercial subdivision at Warm Springs with a standard clause forbidding the sale of this soil to Africans or their descendants forever and ever. I cannot undertake to print and mail copies of a typical African-exclusion deed. But Ford's Fund for the Republic could. And Ashmore, of the Arkansas Gazette, might consider this a "project" worthy of his principles, although that I doubt.

ATOMIC SCHOOL

A school near Chicago, Ill., has two unique distinctions: its students already are among the best educated in the world, and its curriculum is crucial to the future of mankind. It is the world's first school of nuclear science and engineering. It is concerned with training people in the peacetime uses of atomic energy. Its purpose is to impart to the natural scientists and engineers attending its seventh-month courses specific knowledge about how nuclear energy can be applied for use instead of for destruction.

The students at this school, established in support of President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace program, come from 20 countries. Represented are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Egypt, France, Greece, Guatemala, Indonesia, Israel, Japan, Mexico, Pakistan, the Philippines, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand.

Their studies are of particular importance because the world today is waiting to find out whether it will make of atomic energy a master or a servant. Atomic and hydrogen weapons must be seen not only as explosive forces of tremendous power, but also in terms of radiation poisoning, which conceivably could jeopardize the future of mankind. Yet atomic energy used to serve man could eliminate the very causes that lead to war and to the use of nuclear weapons.

Graduates of this school, run by the Atomic Energy Commission, the State Department and the Foreign Operations, can help ensure that nuclear energy will be used for useful purposes. In more ways than one, the hopes of the world rest on these students and this unique school.

ON THE LOCAL LEVEL

Many people neglect to play an active part in local elections and political affairs. Many who are brought to the polls by the excitement of contests for Congress, the governorship and the presidency, think that the election of judges and local officials is unimportant. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Officials on the local level make important decisions, are concerned with the spending of tax money. Because of their influence in the community they frequently wield a degree of power in state and national political affairs. It is extremely important that these officials be of the right sort, men of principle, ability and dedication. For most people their only direct contact with government is in the courts of elected judges or in the offices of local officials.

The good citizen knows that self-government is a continuous job, that the structure of the democratic institution is as strong or as weak as each level of government, from top to bottom. Not only the community, but the nation as well, benefits when citizens demonstrate a live interest in local government.

THE GET-RICH-QUICKERS

The trouble with today's speculative market may be the speculators. At a Senate committee hearing Harold E. Wood of St. Paul, Minn., chairman of the National Association of Securities Dealers, said that even if the prospectuses give all the facts, the speculators do not read them. A prospectus may say in almost so many words that a stock is worthless. If it does so, it has made "full disclosure" in the eyes of the law, and the victim who loses his money has no redress.

This recalls the story of the South Sea Bubble in 18th century England when a speculative mania raged. One daring but truthful financier offered shares in "an undertaking of great advantage, but no one is to know what it is." Investors discovered what it was, and to whose advantage when they put in their money and the financier made off with it.

Legal restrictions cannot do much for people who are determined to ruin themselves.

'These Days'

YALTA AND HISTORY

History has a curious way of asserting itself despite the efforts of vain men and powerful politicians to suppress the truth. Those who rewrite history to suit their private ends fail to suppress the whole truth because always somewhere, even hidden in desert sands, is another record which, in time, is uncovered. Those who would suppress archives only discover that somewhere else an archive exists, a carbon copy, a memory, a diary which points the way to truth.

Thus, for ten years, the errors of Teheran and Yalta have covered the political battlefield with the reputations of men who believe that they were wholly safe from the light of truth. Before the Yalta Conference took place, when the three aged statesmen sat in the Livadia Palace, where once the court of the Czar gamboled, Latvia, Estonia, Lithuania, East Finland, East Poland, Bessarabia and Bukovina had already become absorbed in the Russian Empire.

Stalin had erected Communist governments in Bulgaria, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Hungary and Albania prior to the Yalta Conference. He had also forced Communist participation in the governments of West Finland and Czechoslovakia and imperiled our position in Asia, by maintaining a Chinese Communist military force in China.

The Yalta Documents need to be read in this framework. Soviet Russia had already achieved so much with our help, with the $11,000,000,000 of Lend-Lease which Stalin told Roosevelt, at Yalta, was such a wonderful invention because it helped allies without stirring resentment in them for being aided.

It is not possible to believe that Roosevelt did not know the pattern that Stalin was cutting out of paper maps. Also, Roosevelt knew about the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact, and it should have been a guide to Stalin's Weltanschauung. In fact in the very first conversation between Roosevelt and Stalin at Yalta, Stalin made his position clear: The Earth was to be managed by the three great powers and he was taking no back-talk from any of the little nations. This is the conversation as reported by Bohlen:

"Marshal Stalin made it quite plain on a number of occasions that he felt that the three great powers which had borne the brunt of the war and had liberated from German domination the small powers should have the unanimous right to preserve the peace of the world. He said that he could serve no other interest than that of the Soviet state and people but that in the international arena the Soviet Union was prepared to pay its share in the preservation of peace. He said that it was ridiculous to believe that Albania would have an equal voice with the three great powers who had won the war and were present at this dinner. He said some of the liberated countries seemed to believe that the great powers had been forced to shed their blood in order to liberate them and that they were now scolding these great powers for failure to take into consideration the rights of these small powers."

This policy, Soviet Russia has pursued to the present day. Roosevelt is not reported to have protested against this principle of international conduct. Bohlen's notes say that he commented as follows:

". . . The President said he agreed that the great powers bore the greater responsibility and that the peace should be written by the three powers represented at this table."

It was Winston Churchill who raised his voice, as apparently he often did, for the smaller countries, particularly for Poland. Bohlen gives this credit to Churchill:

"The Prime Minister said that there was no question of the small powers dictating to the big powers but that the great nations of the world should discharge their moral responsibility and leadership and should exercise their power with moderation and great respect for the rights of the smaller nations. . . ."

But Roosevelt said nothing about the Atlantic Charter, about the rights of small nations, about justice for friend and foe. This kind of talk was for the people; the hard-headed, practical men who sat in the Livadia Palace, on the Black Sea, had no time for petty talk. They were making history—by enslaving millions to Stalin's chariot.

It is not a pretty picture, but it is one that will undoubtedly be painted in even more lurid details when all the documents are available.

ELECTRIC SHOCK TREATMENT

In recent years, treatment with electric shock has become a well-recognized and effective treatment for many forms of mental disease. The use of modern forms of quieting drugs to calm patients before these treatments has been a great step forward in advancing the use of the electric shock to more and more types of patients. How about its use with patients who have cardiac (heart) conditions present?

In the Correspondence Section of the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Gunther Wolff tells of his experience in the Camarillo State Hospital, California, where electric shock treatments were given to more than 200 elderly female patients (20 were in their eighties, and 56 between the ages of 70 and 80). What were the results? Only 10 per cent showed no improvement; 11 per cent were able to return home; 41 per cent improved so much that they were able to go home for short periods of time; and 39 per cent were able to mingle again with other patients and join in normal activity.

Dr. Wolff states that it is reasonable to assume that many of these patients had some heart degeneration and that a few had actually gone through a period of heart failure and were treated after the heart power had been built up again. The enlightening point is that in not one of these cases has any serious effect on the heart appeared after the electric shock treatment.

"This fact encouraged us to start this electric shock treatment in patients with more severe heart conditions. We selected 12 patients, of whom six were suffering from rheumatic heart condition and six had a history of coronary thrombosis and marked changes in the electrocardiograph record. All of these patients were either very combative, overactive, resistive or very depressed and melancholic, with severe feeding problems and suicidal tendencies. Their mental and physical actions were probably a much greater strain on their hearts than electric shock treatment could ever be."

What were the results? "All of these patients have greatly improved mentally and no ill effects on their hearts were observed."

Dr. Wolff feels that the name "electric shock" should be changed to "electric cure" as the word "shock" carries unpleasant ideas with it, which are not justified with the modern low voltage treatments used.

It is certainly encouraging to any of us, who may have members of our families or relatives in need of such treatment for mental conditions, to know that it can be used safely even when heart disease is present.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The battle of Echo Park is beginning to echo loudly in congressional committee rooms and behind the scenery.

What's involved here is a contest among southwestern states for control of water in the Colorado river system. From the point of view of a neutral observer, it is a perfect example of the confusion that results when attempts are made to settle interstate disputes at the local level, rather than in the national interest.

The arguments that the two sides throw at each other are vicious and in some cases misleading. Present indications are that if the controversy is settled by this Congress, it will be the result of a political log-rolling deal worthy of a Paul Bunyan.

The billion-dollar project to build two water storage dams in the upper Colorado system has been kicking around for five years. One dam would be at Glen Canyon, Ariz., 13 miles below the Utah line. The other would be at Echo Park, Colo., on the tributary Green River, three miles east of the Utah line.

THE TWO DAMS WOULD have a combined potential power capacity of a million kilowatts and provide irrigation water for over 400,000 acres of land in 11 projects. They would also store water for downstream delivery in dry years.

President Eisenhower flew over the sites during his Colorado vacation last summer and declared there was no sense in not using them. The administration program for this year calls for an initial $5 million to begin work if Congress authorizes the project.

The total cost is estimated at $902 million over a 20-year period. Revenue from the sale of power and irrigation rights would begin to repay costs after eight years.

Opposition to this project comes largely from the downstream Colorado water users of Arizona and California. Most of the fight comes from Los Angeles, which is the big user of Colorado water and Colorado power from the Hoover dam.

THIS FIGHT GOES BACK 30 years to the days when states in the Colorado basin made a compact to divide the river water between upstream and downstream users. All signed it except Arizona which, with California, wanted more.

Congress thereupon passed a limitation act, giving the downstream states 7.5 million acre-feet of water a year. A test case on this division is now before the U. S. Supreme Court.

The big complication here is that Mother Nature hasn't always cooperated on this division. Sometimes the upper Colorado can deliver 25 million acre-feet a year. Sometimes it can deliver only four million acre-feet a year.

Last year was a dry year. Power and water deliveries from Hoover Dam have been cut up to 20 per cent. California and Arizona are protesting. This is where much of the opposition to Echo Park and Glen Canyon comes from.

In making their fight, all kinds of appeals have been made. One has been to arouse national parks fans to protest that Echo Park Dam would flood out Dinosaur National Monument.

Rep. Craig Hosmer (R., Calif.) has now raised a new objection. It is that atomic power plants will soon make hydroelectric power, obsolete, so why build any more dams?

IT SO HAPPENS, however, that there is another dam project in which southern California has great interest. This is the Trinity River development in northern California.

Here is the making of a big deal.

Rep. Clair Engle (D., Calif.), chairman of the House Interior Committee, comes from the Trinity River area. He has introduced a bill to reauthorize and enlarge this project.

The Senate Interior Committee has just concluded Echo Park hearings. Chairman of this group is James E. Murray (D., Mont.).

Last year both committees approved Echo Park Dam, but the issue was not brought to a vote.

This year the word has gone out from the Senate side that unless the House approves Echo Park, the Senate will not approve Trinity River.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 24—When the Attorney General of the United States discloses publicly how the present security system recently caught a federal employe who was stealing some of the highest secrets of the United States government and turning them over to an agent of a foreign government, it would seem to be news.

Yet little or no attention has been given to a certain paragraph in a speech delivered in Boston on Monday of this week and issued to the press corps in Washington that same day. The Attorney General says:

"AN EXAMPLE of the effectiveness of the employe security program is the case of Joseph Sidney Petersen Jr. He was a trusted employe of the National Security Agency, one of our most sensitive agencies. In the course of a security check, allegations arose which could have led to his dismissal under the executive order. In the ensuing investigation, information was obtained indicating Petersen might have illegally in his possession certain highly classified documents. Under the order, the investigation immediately was referred to the FBI.

"Petersen admitted having stored such documents in his apartment, where they were recovered, and also admitted furnishing contents of the documents to representatives of another government. He was arrested and indicted on three counts of the espionage laws. He finally entered a plea of guilty to one count and was sentenced to seven years in prison."

THIS IS the first time it has been disclosed by the Department of Justice how Petersen was detected.

It is apparent that those who are trying to weaken the present security program by arguing that it is ineffective, or that it might hurt innocent persons, are not taking into account a case like that of Petersen, who was caught with the goods. To this day it has not been disclosed what other governments obtained the secret documents after they got into the hands of one foreign government that was not entitled to receive them.

Yet one editorial writer recently claimed that all this wasn't so bad after all because it was not proved that Petersen was a Communist of that he did what he did because of any Communist connections—as if it matters whether the motive can be clearly established when a security risk is proved to have betrayed his own government.

THERE IS a widespread attempt to create a smokescreen around the security procedures so that a lot of steps can be interposed which will hamstring the detection process. One of the favorite methods of attack is to argue that all "informants" should be required to identify themselves in government proceedings—something that would dry up many sources of information for the FBI.

Some well-meaning persons believe in the theory that all confidential information should be disclosed in government procedures with reference to security risks. They are mistaken, of course. But, although many of the critics have no connection with Communists or communism, their criticism does not suddenly become valid for that reason. For the aim of the Communists is to discredit the government's security program and impair the F.B.I., and they will win a big victory if government personnel hearings can be forced to adopt all the dilatory and obstructive procedures which were exhibited in Judge Medina's court when the eleven Communists were on trial. The attorney general in his Boston speech touched on this point when he said:

"IT IS BECOMING increasingly clear that the current violent attack against government witnesses and against the FBIs confidential sources of information has many of its roots in a Communist effort to stem the successful campaign against subversion."

The case of Harvey Matusow is pertinent. He now has been ordered to jail by a federal judge for contempt of court because the judge held he had lied in his attempt to reverse earlier testimony which had been corroborated by six other witnesses. The conspiracy by which Communists paid Matusow money to write a book that could be used in the plot to discredit government procedures in handling security risks now has been fully exposed and is a matter of record in a federal court in Texas.

BUT THOSE "Left Wing" writers and cartoonists who hailed Matusow's alleged change of heart with enthusiasm haven't apologized to their readers. Some have merely continued to argue that, after all, the FBI should have known Matusow wasn't truthful in the first place. But the original testimony he gave in this case was corroborated at the time, and the principal person he then accused of being a Communist has since refused to deny under oath that he was a Communist.

What the FBI and the government didn't anticipate was that the Communists would win Matusow over and that a lot of people would swallow the claim that he now was telling the truth and didn't tell the truth before.

The Communist menace will not be defeated in this country unless all Americans, irrespective of their political inclinations, recognize the techniques of communism, especially when they dupe innocent people with their propaganda.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Tucson, Arizona, March 23—I have here a collection of want-ads clipped from a paper whose editor has been a vehement campaigner against segregation in the schools and public accommodations and in favor of a new concept, "integration." This word was kept on the bench, under blankets, so to speak, until the Supreme Court handed down its decision a few months ago. I will tangle with this "integration" gag and the political conspirators who sicked it on us after I have first slapped the ears off the editor of the Arkansas Gazette, of Little Rock, the paper which pooh-poohed the disclosure that its successful candidate for governor was a student leader at "Commonwealth" College, a Communist institution in the little town of Mena. All that I have told you about that still goes and I urge on your attention the important fact that this editor was a protege of the Ford Fund for the Republic and of Paul Hoffman, its president, in the preparation of a "report" in favor of "integration." This "report" is called "The Negro and the Schools."

This editor's name is Harry S. Ashmore and his conduct puts me in mind of La Boca Grande's hypocrisy in refusing recently to attend a party at a club which was said to exclude Negroes from its membership rolls, though not necessarily from festivities on its premises. Down to the time of his pharisaical speech about "well-fed clubmen" her husband listed with pride among his clubs two which never had entertained a Negro. He was caught in this pietistical fraud and next year he dropped them from his list. He may have resigned. Maybe they kicked him out.

Ashmore's paper always refers to Negroes as Negroes or "colored." This want-ad section from his Arkansas Gazette is headed: "Colored Property, Rent," so Ashmore does not "integrate" material things. He segregates "property."

According to the morals and political principles of the New York Times and Herald Tribune and all other clarions of the same cult in the northern tier, this is "racism" and "discrimination." Under the law of New York state, approved by such journalism, it is a misdemeanor. If a New York paper printed such a segregation in its want-ads, the editor, the publisher, the stockholders, the copy-readers, printers and newsboys could be charged with being partners in a crime.

Some proponents of this concept have browbeaten owners of resort hotels to the extent that they have promised never again to specify in their ads that their places are handy by churches of Christian worship. What would happen to Harry S. Ashmore, now under subsidy of the Ford Fund for the Republic, should he publish in a New York paper a want-ad section entitled "Colored Property, Rent"? Ashmore's Little Rock Gazette, which plugged and still supports a governor who is an alumnus of a college which was closed and fined $2,500 because it was a Communist institution, also segregates Negroes in the news. If a wanted criminal is known to be a Negro, Ashmore's paper says so. Recently, a little boy was drowned near Little Rock and Mr. Ashmore's Gazette "segregated" him. It described him as a little Negro boy in the little head on a little story.

This reminds me of LaBoca's pretense that she abhors discrimination. Why can't Americans remember the history which has coursed before their very eyes?

This female's two autobiographies sold up into many thousands at high prices. She made plenty of money on them. When she wrote that stuff she had not yet settled firmly on her political line against "segregation." So she casually stated, not as admissions, but as ordinary recollections, that she found it more convenient to segregate her help, both in her private home as the wife of the assistant secretary of the navy and, 12 years later, as the wife of Franklin the great in the presidential palace of the United States. She kicked out the white help and kept the colored because they didn't get along. She discriminated against the whites.

Again, when she dozed off and got some of her beautiful teeth knocked out driving from Hyde Park to New York, she explained in print that she drowsed because she had nobody to talk to. There were two Negroes in the back seat, but apparently they were not worthy of converse with this great intellect who now loves the Negro, by the million votes. So they were segregated.

I have told it before, but few Americans realize that my late mahatma, Franklin, sold real estate plots in his commercial subdivision at Warm Springs with a standard clause forbidding the sale of this soil to Africans or their descendants forever and ever. I cannot undertake to print and mail copies of a typical African-exclusion deed. But Ford's Fund for the Republic could. And Ashmore, of the Arkansas Gazette, might consider this a "project" worthy of his principles, although that I doubt.

Tax Uncertainties Are Plague to Many Firms

New York, March 24 (AP)—The voice of the tax collector is heard loud in the land these days And tax uncertainties — like changeable March weather—plague business firms and individual citizens alike.

While you are struggling with your income tax return, due in three weeks, business management is trying to guess what taxes may lie ahead as it plans future production and expansion schedules.

HERE ARE some tax proposals—either by government officials or businessmen or both—being talked about in Washington today:

A possible hike in the federal gasoline tax.

A retroactive tax collection from many business firms to regain a so-called windfall in the 1954 taxes they've already paid.

A cut in certain taxes on business and individuals, tailored to the idea of making investment in business more attractive.

Repeal of last year's faster depreciation allowances for business in the early years of a new plant's or new machine's life.

The hike in the federal tax on gasoline is suggested as a way to help pay for the huge highway program President Eisenhower favors. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says he wouldn't object to such a hike. The tax is now two cents a gallon. Humphrey didn't name a figure for a higher levy.

CONGRESS is debating repeal of two provisions of last year's law: One allows businessmen to deduct from their 1954 income their actual expenses that year and also reserves set up for expenses anticipated this year. The other allows them to postpone until a year later paying taxes on part of the income received for services to be rendered over several years.

Secretary Humphrey says these provisions will cost the treasury too much in lost revenue and wants the repeal retroactive. Businessmen who have already paid 1954 taxes would have to get up some more money quickly if the retroactive repeal goes through. The sum involved has been estimated as anywhere from one half billion to five billion dollars.

BUSINESSMEN, naturally, think it would be better if Uncle Sam taxed less rather than more. Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of United States Steel, tells the Senate Banking Committee that if business is to get the investment money it needs for future expansion, Congress should help by further reducing the "double taxation" of first a levy on corporate profits and then a further income levy on dividends the stockholders get from profits. He also wants business to get still more tax allowance for depreciation of its plant and machinery.

In Congress, however, there is a sizable group that would like to repeal the depreciation allowances voted last year, and also the partial exemption of dividends from income taxes on individuals. These proposals, like the one to lower personal income taxes, one way or another, in the lower brackets, appears to be dead for this session.

THE REAL grip of businessmen—and many individuals, too—is that taxes are changed so frequently. Businessmen say they planned on the basis of last year's tax rules, now find they may be taxed retroactively on last year's income, and face the uncertainty of trying to guess what Congress may do about taxes next year.

To what the March winds from Washington may bring to you in the way of taxes, you can add what is being planned in your own state capital and your own city hall. That tax collector's voice gets louder each year, it seems—and the time to pay is just around the corner.

Tax Uncertainties Are Plague to Many Firms

New York, March 24 (AP)—The voice of the tax collector is heard loud in the land these days And tax uncertainties — like changeable March weather—plague business firms and individual citizens alike.

While you are struggling with your income tax return, due in three weeks, business management is trying to guess what taxes may lie ahead as it plans future production and expansion schedules.

HERE ARE some tax proposals—either by government officials or businessmen or both—being talked about in Washington today:

A possible hike in the federal gasoline tax.

A retroactive tax collection from many business firms to regain a so-called windfall in the 1954 taxes they've already paid.

A cut in certain taxes on business and individuals, tailored to the idea of making investment in business more attractive.

Repeal of last year's faster depreciation allowances for business in the early years of a new plant's or new machine's life.

The hike in the federal tax on gasoline is suggested as a way to help pay for the huge highway program President Eisenhower favors. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey says he wouldn't object to such a hike. The tax is now two cents a gallon. Humphrey didn't name a figure for a higher levy.

CONGRESS is debating repeal of two provisions of last year's law: One allows businessmen to deduct from their 1954 income their actual expenses that year and also reserves set up for expenses anticipated this year. The other allows them to postpone until a year later paying taxes on part of the income received for services to be rendered over several years.

Secretary Humphrey says these provisions will cost the treasury too much in lost revenue and wants the repeal retroactive. Businessmen who have already paid 1954 taxes would have to get up some more money quickly if the retroactive repeal goes through. The sum involved has been estimated as anywhere from one half billion to five billion dollars.

BUSINESSMEN, naturally, think it would be better if Uncle Sam taxed less rather than more. Benjamin F. Fairless, chairman of United States Steel, tells the Senate Banking Committee that if business is to get the investment money it needs for future expansion, Congress should help by further reducing the "double taxation" of first a levy on corporate profits and then a further income levy on dividends the stockholders get from profits. He also wants business to get still more tax allowance for depreciation of its plant and machinery.

In Congress, however, there is a sizable group that would like to repeal the depreciation allowances voted last year, and also the partial exemption of dividends from income taxes on individuals. These proposals, like the one to lower personal income taxes, one way or another, in the lower brackets, appears to be dead for this session.

THE REAL grip of businessmen—and many individuals, too—is that taxes are changed so frequently. Businessmen say they planned on the basis of last year's tax rules, now find they may be taxed retroactively on last year's income, and face the uncertainty of trying to guess what Congress may do about taxes next year.

To what the March winds from Washington may bring to you in the way of taxes, you can add what is being planned in your own state capital and your own city hall. That tax collector's voice gets louder each year, it seems—and the time to pay is just around the corner.

Chores Needed

Little Rock (AP)—An optometrist believes modern children are handicapped in learning because they don't get the opportunity to "do things around the house and outside. There isn't a single top-flight mathematician in this country who is city-born and bred," says Dr. A. M. Skeffington of St. Louis. "You need a proper concept of time and space to be a top mathematician." Skeffington told Arkansas optometrists that too much emphasis has been placed on 20-20 vision, adding: "A chimpanzee with a 20-20 vision isn't the equal of a man."

First Loan Made For Conservation

F. A. Norman, county supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration, announced today that the first Soil and Water Conservation loan to be made in his area has been approved for an applicant in Greene county.

THIS LOAN was made to enable the applicant to carry out Soil Conservation practices on his farm in the town of Coxsackie, and provided funds for the purchase of lime, fertilizer, seed, labor and gasoline, to enable the borrower to make a basic application of lime and fertilizer and to seed the land to improved meadow and pasture grasses.

Soil and Water Conservation loans may also be made for irrigation, drainage, farmstead water supply, contouring, terracing, pasture improvement, forestation and related soil and water conservation measures that are recommended by the Extension or Soil Conservation Service, and in some instances for the purchase of special machinery needed to perform the conservation work. Loans may be made for pumps and irrigation equipment.

These funds cannot be used for the purchase of regular farm machinery, construction of buildings or regular annual farm expenses.

Loans to individuals can be made up to $25,000 at 4½ per cent interest and are repayable over periods up to twenty years.

Soil and water loans are secured by chattel mortgage, real estate mortgage or both. Supervisor Norman stated that families in the counties of Dutchess, Greene, Sullivan and Ulster, who wish to carry out Soil and Water conservation measures on their farms and who are unable to secure the needed funds from local credit sources should contact the Farmers Home Administration office at 54 John street, Kingston.

South Missed Boat In This Game Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

When West led the king of hearts, South looked at the dummy in great disappointment. "We missed the boat," South announced. As experienced players know, South meant that he wanted to be in a slam contract.

It's hard to blame South for his reaction, but the slam obviously depended on being able to draw the trumps without loss. This would be possible if the trumps broke in the "normal" fashion—three in one hand and two in the other opponent's hand—but the odds are only 2 to 1 in favor of such a break. In a healthy minority of cases, the suit will break worse than 3-2.

Moreover, the 3-2 break is a favorite when you have no information at all When an opponent makes a takeout double and then raises his partner's response, it isn't unreasonable to think that he is very short in the suit that has been bid against him. As a matter of fact, it's unreasonable after such bidding to expect a "normal" break in the spade suit.

When the hand was actually played, declarer ruffed the opening heart lead, and took two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. West discarded the deuce of diamonds on the second trump, and South turned a bright red. He had missed a boat, but not the boat he had been talking about. He was going to lose his game contract.

South switched to diamonds, but East carefully waited until the third round of that suit to ruff. Then the defenders could take two hearts and two clubs, setting the contract two tricks.

South should have assured the contract by playing a low trump from both hands at the second trick. East would win the trump but would be unable to lead a heart, since dummy's last trump would be able to accept the ruff.

If East led a club, instead, West would take two club tricks but the contract would still be safe. South could surely regain the lead, draw the rest of the trumps, and run the diamonds.

Mislettered Hams

Atlanta (AP)—Someone hammed up the hams so those strange looking auto license plates issued to amateur radio operators look even stranger than usual. These special plates—which cost the hams $1 extra—are made up of the operator's call letters, like "W4BIW". This year while the plates were being made at a state prison, someone used inverted M's instead of W's in about half the places W's were called for. An upside-down M is too wide at the bottom and generally not nearly so graceful as a proper W. Particularly unhappy are those who have plates on which both an inverted M and a regular W appear. That just makes the topsy-turvy M look worse.

Free Drinks Assailed

Lansing, Mich. (AP)—There is too much free liquor flowing in Michigan to suit some of the state legislators. A bill has been introduced forbidding any manufacturer, warehouseman or wholesaler of liquor to give away more than 48 half pints a month as samples. An audit of the state liquor control commission showed that more than 30,000 bottles of liquor were given away by salesmen last year.

MacArthur Says He Wasn't Asked On Yalta Plan

New York, March 24 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Wednesday he was not consulted about the Yalta conference, but if he had been he would have recommended "emphatically" against bringing Russia into the Pacific war "at that late date."

"The imminent collapse of Japan was clearly apparent several months before Yalta when we seized the Philippines," the former Far East commander said in a statement. "All of my dispatches clearly enunciated this viewpoint."

MacArthur said the time for Russia to have entered the fight against Japan was after the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941. He said he recommended this "most urgently" in a message to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson but got no reply.

THE YALTA conference took place in February, 1945. Russia agreed to go to war against Japan within two or three months after the defeat of Germany, which came on May 7, 1945. Russia entered the Japanese war on Aug. 9, 1945, three days after the atomic bomb fell on Hiroshima.

The Yalta papers, long a secret, were made public last week and disclosed, among other things, that Soviet Marshal Joseph Stalin had demanded sweeping concessions from President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Far East to go to war there.

Stalin argued he had "to explain to the Soviet people why Russia was entering the war against Japan."

MacArthur said Wednesday:

"Had my views been requested with reference to Yalta, I would most emphatically have recommended against bringing the Soviet into the Pacific war at that date. To have made vital concessions for such a purpose would have seemed to me fantastic."

Hanging Question

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—Republican Majority Leader Norman K. Parsells implied no threat to Abraham A. Ribicoff, Democratic chief executive, when he said on the floor of Connecticut's House of Representatives, "We always hang our governors." Parsells was speaking in favor of a resolution authorizing the painting of an official portrait of Ribicoff.

Double Duty

Portsmouth, N. H. (AP)—Atty. Robert Shaimes did double duty in municipal court. Appearing as defense attorney in a disturbing the peace case, Shaines was called by City Solicitor Thomas E. Flynn to testify as a prosecution witness against his client. The case was dismissed after Shaines argued successfully that the charge had not been proved.

Ruby Registers 2-1 Win Playoffs

Saugerties, March 23 — Ruby defeated West Camp by 2-1 to take the Saugerties Dartball League play-offs.

Ruby has now earned the right to meet the 1955 Saugerties Dartball pennant winner, Quarryville, in the Saugerties World Series slated for Monday night at the Centerville Fire Hall.

In the semi-finals played Monday night Ruby took the first game 8 to 5. West Camp came back in the second with a 9 to 5 win. The rubber game was a runaway for Ruby with a 13-6 final score.

Dave Scheffel Jr., garnered three of the seven home runs Ruby scored. With his three homers he batted in seven runs and was high man in that category.

For the losers, Red Drescher and Danny Wynne both recorded two round trippers which accounted for four of the five hit by West Camp.

Lou Payette, league old timer with Ruby, also put a homer in the record books.

According to the banquet committee more than 100 dartball fans and players will be served at the annual banquet prior to the All-Star Game and the World Series. The dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., following which the All-Star Game will be played.

Scout Council Is Lauded in Annual Regional Review

Two new Eagle Scouts were presented during the regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Tuesday night at the First Baptist Church hall.

They were Explorer Robert Snyder of Troop 44, sponsored by the Catskill Elks Club and Explorer Mark Hyer of Troop 40, sponsored by the Athens Boys Welfare League.

R. Gardner Burns, deputy regional scout executive from the regional office in New York, gave the annual council review during the meeting.

Raymond S. Quackenbush of Saugerties, Council president, presented certificates to the new Eagle Scouts and Burns presented their fathers with the coveted Eagle Badge. The fathers in turn presented their sons with the badges.

THE ANNUAL COUNCIL REVIEW is a summary of the progress made by the council during the past year. Burns, in his review pointed out that the Rip Van Winkle Council, is among the leaders of the 71 Councils in Region 2 which serves New York and New Jersey. Increase in membership was 15.2 per cent growing from 2,117 boys in 85 units to 2,438 boys in 98 units. The number of unit leaders with basic training had increased from 32 per cent to 45 per cent during the year and the number of units with two-deep leadership had increased from 60 units to 70 units. Subscriptions to Boys' Life magazine which is a program help to the units increased from 848 to 1,030. Burns congratulated the executive board and the operating committee chairmen in particular for planning and carrying out a program which has resulted in such outstanding successes.

Scout Executive George V. Dennis followed up the council review by pointing out the goals set for 1955—organization of at least 15 new units, increasing total boy-membership to 2,550 boys, increasing subscriptions to Boys' Life to 1,275 subscriptions, having at least 50 per cent of the unit leaders with basic training, increasing the commissioner staff to at least 30 men, having all units with two-deep leadership. He pointed out the weak spots as shown by the Review — total advancements earned by Boy Scouts and Explorers and the percentage of Boy Scouts first class or higher.

To help correct this situation an Advancement Clinic will be held Wednesday night, March 30, at the St. James Methodist Church for the advancement man in each troop in the entire council area. Another weak spot discussed was the lack of ability to raise enough funds to enable the council to expand its facilities and services as fast as the growth of the council indicated. To start plans to aliviate this situation, the Council Finance Committee and the seven district chairmen will meet Tuesday night, March 29, to make plans for the annual finance campaign to be conducted later this year.

The council president announced that the annual dinner meeting of the council for all scouters and their ladies would be held Tuesday, May 24, at the George Washington School. Thomas J. Keane, recently retired from the national staff of the Boy Scouts of America where he held for years the position of director of civic relationships service, will be the principal speaker.

There have been more than 50 major eruptions of Mt. Etna in Sicily in recorded history, says the National Geographic Society.

O&W Losses Called Severe

New York, March 24 (AP)—Operating losses of the bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railroad have become so bad recently that the railroad has had to dip into funds collected for other railroads in order to meet its payroll, the railroad's general auditor said Wednesday.

William F. Mathieson continued to testify for the second day on the unprofitable operations of the road, bankrupt since 1937.

THE INTERSTATE Commerce Commission is holding a hearing on a plan proposed by the road's trustee, Lewis D. Freeman, to sell the road for $4,600,000 to Samuel M. Pinsly Associates, Inc., of Boston.

The sale is opposed by holders of 32 million dollars worth of railroad bonds which have been in default since 1936. Under the plan the bondholders would get nothing from the sale.

The all-freight railroad has somewhat over 500 miles of track, the main line running from Middletown to Oswego with various side lines and trackage rights extending into Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Rotary Fire Fighter

Government Camp, Ore. (AP)—A state highway department rotary snow plow was pressed into service for fighting a hotel fire at this resort high on the slopes of Mt. Hood. The hotel burned down but the plume of snow played by the road clearing vehicle helped keep the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Regular Vets to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post and Auxiliary, Regular Veterans Association, will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the home of Commander George M. Nichols, Bloomington, instead of on March 31 as formerly announced. A full attendance is urged to hear about benefit changes that may affect those in federal jobs and possibly those in state, county and town positions.

Books Chained

In many libraries of the 15th century the books were protected by being chained in a fixed location and chains continued to be used in English church libraries until the early 18th century.

Burns congratulated the executive board and the operating committee chairmen in particular for planning and carrying out a program which has resulted in such outstanding successes.

Scout Executive George V. Dennis followed up the council review by pointing out the goals set for 1955—organization of at least 15 new units, increasing total boy-membership to 2,550 boys, increasing subscriptions to Boys' Life to 1,275 subscriptions, having at least 50 per cent of the unit leaders with basic training, increasing the commissioner staff to at least 30 men, having all units with two-deep leadership. He pointed out the weak spots as shown by the Review — total advancements earned by Boy Scouts and Exporers and the percentage of Boy Scouts first class or higher.

To help correct this situation an Advancement Clinic will be held Wednesday night, March 30, at the St. James Methodist Church for the advancement man in each troop in the entire council area. Another weak spot discussed was the lack of ability to raise enough funds to enable the council to expand its facilities and services as fast as the growth of the council indicated. To start plans to aliviate this situation, the Council Finance Committee and the seven district chairmen will meet Tuesday night, March 29, to make plans for the annual finance campaign to be conducted later this year.

The council president announced that the annual dinner meeting of the council for all scouters and their ladies would be held Tuesday, May 24, at the George Washington School. Thomas J. Keane, recently retired from the national staff of the Boy Scouts of America where he held for years the position of director of civic relationships service, will be the principal speaker.

There have been more than 50 major eruptions of Mt. Etna in Sicily in recorded history, says the National Geographic Society.

O&W Losses Called Severe

New York, March 24 (AP)—Operating losses of the bankrupt New York, Ontario and Western Railroad have become so bad recently that the railroad has had to dip into funds collected for other railroads in order to meet its payroll, the railroad's general auditor said Wednesday.

William F. Mathieson continued to testify for the second day on the unprofitable operations of the road, bankrupt since 1937.

THE INTERSTATE Commerce Commission is holding a hearing on a plan proposed by the road's trustee, Lewis D. Freeman, to sell the road for $4,600,000 to Samuel M. Pinsly Associates, Inc., of Boston.

The sale is opposed by holders of 32 million dollars worth of railroad bonds which have been in default since 1936. Under the plan the bondholders would get nothing from the sale.

The all-freight railroad has somewhat over 500 miles of track, the main line running from Middletown to Oswego with various side lines and trackage rights extending into Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Rotary Fire Fighter

Government Camp, Ore. (AP)—A state highway department rotary snow plow was pressed into service for fighting a hotel fire at this resort high on the slopes of Mt. Hood. The hotel burned down but the plume of snow played by the road clearing vehicle helped keep the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Regular Vets to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post and Auxiliary, Regular Veterans Association, will be held tonight at 8:15 o'clock in the home of Commander George M. Nichols, Bloomington, instead of on March 31 as formerly announced. A full attendance is urged to hear about benefit changes that may affect those in federal jobs and possibly those in state, county and town positions.

Books Chained

In many libraries of the 15th century the books were protected by being chained in a fixed location and chains continued to be used in English church libraries until the early 18th century.

Ex-Assemblyman Killed

Richfield Springs, March 24, (AP) — Willard Geary Bullion, a former Republican assemblyman, was killed yesterday when struck by an automobile on Route 20 near his home. He was 76.

"For a treat that tempts every appetite, serve Enrico's SPAGHETTI SAUCE!"

DOG'S BEST FRIEND—Lewis Kay, Forman University student, cuddles the pet puppy he risked his life to save from drowning in a well near Taylors, S. C. Kay was lowered into the 45-foot well. Confirmation Given Aruba Sails to Romania

Helsinki, Finland, March 24 (AP)—The owners of the Finnish tanker Aruba today confirmed that the vessel is sailing back to Communist Romania with her cargo of jet plane fuel originally earmarked for Red China.

"According to an agreement with the owners of the cargo of the tanker Aruba, the shipping company last Sunday ordered the ship to return to the port of departure because of obstacles which could prevent the completion of the journey," the Re-Be Shipping Co. annunced.

THE TANKER picked up its load of 13,000 tons of high grade kerosene at the Romanian Black Sea Port of Constanza. It reached the Indian Ocean area before turning back.

Peiping radio complained in a broadcast earlier today that the ship had been forced to return to Constanza "as a result of Washington's highhandedness and intimidation."

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, also accused Britain of "assisting this wilful disruption of high seas traffic" by refusing bunkering facilities for the Aruba at Singapore.

THE VOYAGE of the Aruba aroused violent protest from U. S. congressmen. Jet fuel is one of the strategic items embargoed for shipment to Red China under a United Nations' ban.

After the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa threatened to intercept the vessel, the Aruba's Finnish crew refused to sail the ship into "dangerous waters" beyond Singapore.

Proportion Declines

Although the proportion of widows to the total population of the United States is declining, the number of widows was 7,400,000 in 1953 compared to 5,700,000 in 1940.

For Private Firms

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The government's war-built synthetic rubber monopoly will pass into private hands at midnight tomorrow. The Senate late yesterday voted down 56-31 a resolution which would have vetoed the proposed sale, for an aggregate price of 310½ million dollars, of 24 government rubber plants. The House had rejected a similar resolution Tuesday, 283-132.

Longer For Grouse

Albany, March 24 (AP)—A bill awaiting Gov. Harriman's Signature would increase the maximum open season on grouse and partridge in New York state 45 days to 60. The measure, sought by the Conservation Department, won final legislative approval in the Senate yesterday.

The annual increase in the population of the United States has exceeded 2½ million for the past eight years.

Millard Building Being Improved

Modernization and improvements are being made at the Millard Building, Broadway and Prince street, according to Sam Gold, owner of the premises.

A new 10-year lease has recently been signed by the A & P store, located in the building for many years, and the interior of the store is scheduled to be modernized, said Mr. Gold.

A new type of insulated roof will be installed on the building by the Smith-Parish Roofing Company of Furnace street, and a new electric elevator is also being placed in the building proper.

When improvements are completed, Mr. Gold revealed that the Millard Building, which occupies the entire block frontage on Broadway opposite the Post Office, will be one of the most modern buildings in the city.

AMERICAN MENU

Norway Baked Kipper Loaf Is a Different Lenten Dish

NORWAY SARDINES, nestled in mound of cottage cheese, help spice American menus.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Mrs. Jytte Myhrberg of Kew Gardens, Long Island, was born in Denmark and is now a ground stewardess at Idlewild Airport for Icelantic Airlines. Her husband is station master for the same line. They and their 6-year-old daughter have a nostalgic fondess for Norway sardines and kippers and gave us three of their favorite ways of using them. Their Scandinavian recipes fit perfectly into our American menus, now, during Lent, and at any other time of year.

Norway Sardines and Cottage Cheese Mound

One (3 2/3 oz.) can Norway sardines, 1 (8 oz.) container cottage cheese, 6 ripe olives, chopped, 6 sweet gherkins, chopped, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, potato chips, radish rosettes.

Combine the cottage cheese, chopped olives, chopped gherkins and mayonnaise, making a paste. Shape paste in form of a mound in the center of a serving tray. Arrange sardines on side of mound and surround with crisp potato chips. Garnish with radish rosettes and a whole ripe olive.

Serve on individual plates as an appetizer or first dinner course.

Baked Kipper Loaf

Four (3¼ oz.) cans Norway kippers, 2 cups thin white sauce, 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 eggs 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

In the above order thoroughly blend in all the ingredients. Arrange in well greased 2 quart loaf pan. Place in hot oven (350 degrees F.) and bake 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot with mushroom sauce or tomato sauce, if desired. Yields 8 generous portions.

Kipper Fish Balls

Four (3¼ oz.) cans Norway kippers, 4 cups diced potatoes, 2 eggs, beaten, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, flour, salt and pepper.

Cook diced potatoes in salt water. When potatoes are tender, drain and mash. Drain juice from cans of kippers and add to mashed potatoes. Cut kippers into pieces about one inch in length and add with beaten eggs, butter or margarine, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Form into cakes or balls. Dip into flour and fry in deep fat (3 to 6 minutes) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve hot. Yields 12 generous portions.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Orange and grapefruit cup, Norway kipper loaf and tomato sauce, whipped potatoes, buttered beets, rye bread, butter or margarine, green pepper and cabbage salad, apple pie with cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

The Mature Parent

Motherhood Isn't Getting The Respect We Think It Is

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Several weeks ago I attended a dinner party whose guests included a successful career-woman mother. She had just returned from a business trip to Europe to discover that her married daughter was going to have a baby. The news had appalled her.

Why, do you suppose?

Because, as she estimated it, she had spent $10,000 on her daughter's education—first, an exclusive preparatory school, then an expensive women's university, and after that, art study in Italy.

The art study in Italy had ended, not in an exhibit of daughter Janet's work in a fashionable gallery, not in reviews of it by critics, not even in a well-paying job in the advertising department of a woman's magazine. It had ended in love for a young man—and marriage.

"Now," said her mother to me, "this child is coming. That's the finale, I guess. I want to kick myself. Years of this talk about an art career — and now she sends it all down the drain with some baby's bath water."

How many parents feel like this when the daughters they have sent to college get married and have babies?

I think many of us do. Though we may not express our disappointment so frankly as my fellow-guest, I think many of us feel that higher education of daughters is a poor investment. And that their presumption in having babies instead of careers is a bad return on their education.

This is, of course, contempt for motherhood.

I don't think we respect motherhood nearly so much as we imagine we do. Despite what the psychologists tell us, I don't think we really register what they say. Yet every new discovery they make confirms their conviction that mothers have limitless influence upon this earth through their capacity to teach love or hate to children.

In my last column, I quoted from psychiatrist Abram Kardiner's fine new book, "Sex and Morality." Now I quote again. He writes: "The tender emotions have lost meaning for us because they interfere with the business world's prevailing values. Why did the feminists so uncritically swallow the male ideals of economic power and prestige?"

Well, I guess an African servant tends to covet his white master's dinner jacket. The tradition of his master's superiority would make it appear desirable, despite jungle heat of 110 degrees. Operating out of centuries of submission, he might prefer to sweat in his master's adaptation, despite the jacket's bad fit and discomfort.

The "equal rights" ladies were operating out of submissiveness, too.

'Brain-Washed' Student Keeps Praising Red Chinese Captors

New York, March 24 (AP)—As relatives interrupted and and tried to stop him, Malcolm Bersohn—jailed by the Chinese Communists—persisted yesterday in praising his captors and insisting he was guilty of spying.

Bersohn, a former student at Peiping Union Medical College, was held in prison by the Chinese Reds for 3½ years. He was described as "thoroughly brain-washed" after he was released from custody last Feb. 27.

ARRIVING HERE by plane from the west coast, Bersohn hurriedly started reading from a five-page prepared statement: "I am guilty of military espionage.

"If I were willing to lie about the People's Republic, I would be paid a high price by the warmongers and capitalists who are plotting a new world war. . . ."

Bersohn was interrupted by his sister, who did not give her name. She told newsmen: "This is obviously a sick boy."

"I WANT TO TELL the truth!" shouted the 29-year-old Bersohn.

Bersohn, with a man whom he described as "my twin brother Richard," told reporters he began to work in July, 1945, "for the United States government espionage organization," adding:

"This was the beginning of my espionage against the Chinese people and the cause of peace and democracy everywhere."

Bersohn said he did "secret liaison work" for a Chinese whom he identified as "an American spy," and in 1951 "collected information against the Chinese people" and turned it over to another "American spy" in Peiping.

"BECAUSE OF MY crimes," Bersohn continued, "I was arrested on July 23, 1951, for espionage. I pleaded guilty and confessed right away. I also wrote out a confession."

Members of Bersohn's family called to him: "Keep your mouth shut . . . you'll be sorry for saying all that."

Crying "I want to tell the truth," Bersohn was hustled into a car bearing a physician's license plate and was driven away.

Records show that Bersohn's father, A. P. Bersohn, is a New York attorney residing at 860 5th avenue. Young Bersohn's parents are divorced.

A sister, Mrs. David Elkin, resides in New York, while a twin brother, Richard, is an assistant professor of chemistry at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Put the Kitchen Sink At Convenient Height

The kitchen sink should be installed at a height which permits you to work there with the least amount of bending. Easy height test, suggested by the Porcelain Enamel Institute is this: Stand upright and place palms on bottom of sink.

Other sink tips: If you wash dishes in the sink proper, you need the deepest possible bowl; if you use a dishpan, then a wider, shallow bowl is best for you.

The Port of New York authority estimates that there will be two million helicopter passengers a year in the city area by 1960.

West Saugerties Man Hurt As Tank Truck Overturns

Henry Beaulieu, 31, West Saugerties, was injured this morning when the tank truck he was driving overturned in a field after it was involved in a collision with another truck on Route 9W near Schoentag's south of Saugerties, state police reported.

Beaulieu was taken by ambulance to the Benedictine Hospital, where preliminary examination disclosed he suffered contusions of the entire right side and slight shock, according to the state police report. X-rays were to be taken tomorrow.

Troopers said the accident occurred about 9 a. m. as Beaulieu was driving the fuel oil truck south on 9W and attempting to make a left turn. A following truck, owned by Dierstyne Brothers of Menands and driven by George Wicks, 39, of Albany, collided with the rear of the oil truck, which then went off the east side of the highway and overturned.

Beaulieu was driving a truck owned by DeSomma and Buser of Saugerties, troopers said. The truck apparently was not carrying any fuel at the time. There was no arrest.

Denial Is Made About Conspiracy

Washington, March 24 (AP)—John G. Adams, the army's chief counselor, denied today a charge by Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) that he and top White House aides "conspired" at a Justice Department meeting to block Senate investigation of the Irving Peress case.

Adams, testifying before the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, said the Jan. 21, 1954, meeting attended also by Atty. Gen. Brownell and others high in the government, "was not a conspiracy."

"THE MEETING was not a conspiracy with reference to calling off the Peress hearings," Adams said. "It was not a conspiracy to call off the Ft. Monmouth hearings. It was not a conspiracy to attack Sen. McCarthy.

"It was exactly as I described it (in the McCarthy-Army hearings last spring) and nothing else."

Adams said his testimony at that time was that he and the others discussed only two other subjects—what he termed McCarthy's "ultimatum" demanding the right to quiz army loyalty board members about security cases, and Adams' own charges that McCarthy and others had sought special treatment in the army for Pvt. G. David Schine.

Return Helicopter

Stuttgart, Germany, March 24—The Russians today returned a U. S. Army helicopter pilot and a German national who made a forced landing behind the Iron Curtain a week ago. The two were turned over to U. S. officers at an isolated spot on the East German border, 20 miles northeast of Bad Neustada, Bavaria. They were 1st Lt. Lewis E. Jacquay of Ft. Wayne, Ind., and his passenger, Horst Kuehn, a member of a German labor service unit attached to the U. S. Army.

During the antarctic winter, it gets so cold that a man can hear his breath freeze, says the National Geographic Society.

stone of the arch of highway safety." he added:

"THE AVAILABLE evidence indicates, however, that improved highways, periodic examinations of holders of drivers' licenses, as proposed in my annual message to the Legislature, expanded school safety programs and better enforcement of traffic regulations all hold more promise in the field of highway safety than does the mechanical inspection of automobiles."

The governor said it seemed that there would be "great confusion" if the law were allowed to go into effect "under present conditions."

HE SAID THAT "hundreds of thousands of motorists" would be able to comply with the law "only with great inconvenience and after long periods of delay and waiting in line."

Harriman added that it was likely that "public resentment" among the state's 4½ million motorists "would actually set back our highway safety efforts."

Republican Sen. Fred G. Rath of Utica has introduced a bill that would repeal the safety-inspection law. The bill still is in Senate committee.

THE NEW YORK State Bar Assn., and the Assn. of the Bar of the City of New York have asked that Harriman not block the inspection plan. However, the City Council of New York has asked the Legislature to postpone the effective date of the inspections one year.

The number of traffic deaths in the state per 100 million motor vehicle miles has dropped from 11.5 in 1938 to 5.3 in 1954, the governor said.

"THIS SHOULD not be a source of complacency, but it does indicate that we are making steady progress in the promotion of safe driving," he continued.

Harriman asserted that a "chaotic situation" would be created if the program should be inaugurated, and then it were found that "basic amendments were required."

Postponement of the plan for one year, Harriman said, would give time for studying the entire highway-safety picture and for "formulation and sound and administratively practical legislation which would promote safety and assure in its workings the results desired by all of us."

Two Cars Derailed

The Flatbush avenue railroad crossing was blocked for nearly an hour early today when two freight cars were derailed. Police were notified at 5:05 a. m., of the mishap, and relayed the information to the fire department in the event of a fire call to the area. Officers John Crespino and Anthony Turck were dispatched to the crossing, and a report at 5:50 a. m. said the crossing was clear. The cars were derailed during switching operations and caused only slight damage to the track.

Jennie Spina Injured

Jennie Spina, 55, of 65 Andrew street, reported a slight injury to the left arm in a traffic mishap at Crown and North Front streets early yesterday afternoon. Officers Louis Sapp Jr., and Edward Edwards reported at 12:34 p. m., that the woman came in contact with the side of the car of Neal J. Everett, 58, of Sundown, who was turning right into Crown street from North Front street.

City Light Bill

Greenkill avenue; Charles W. Greene, Jr., 160 Clinton avenue, and William J. Freer, 56 Summer street.

A petition for installation of curbing and paving and a sanitary sewer on Terrance street from Mary's avenue to Peter street, was referred to City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan. Another requesting a sewer on a section of the northern part of Clifton avenue, also was referred to the engineer.

A COMMON COUNCIL resolution by Third Ward Alderman Edwin Radel asking repair of the road at Florence and Lincoln streets, was referred to Steuding.

On recommendation of Commissioner Whitbeck, the board voted to better lighting on Murphy street, by increasing the candlpower of two lights and by installing a new light. Present lights there, he said were badly inadequate. Light changes at no extra charge, were authorized for German street and at Ferry street and Hasbrouck avenue.

A REQUEST by Alderman Radel for lights on Flatbush avenue, and Van Gaasbeck, Gage and Stephan streets, was referred to the light committee along with one by Fourth Ward Alderman Joseph Wenzel for a light on Ulster street at the foot of Rock street.

Fifth Ward Alderman Samuel A. Perry's long resolution opposing the proposal to use property in the fifth ward for a landfill project to solve the city's refuse-disposal problem was received and filed.

counties would be divided into five categories:

1. Full control would remain in New York city and Albany, Clinton, Jefferson, Rensselaer, Rockland, St. Lawrence and Westchester counties. Portions of Cayuga and Otsego counties that now are under control would stay that way.

2. CONTROLS would remain in Schenectady, Onondaga, Monroe and Oneida counties, except for one-family dwellings and two-family, owner-occupied houses, which would be decontrolled. Cities and town could recontrol such units at their options.

3. Nassau county would be decontrolled including one-family houses and two-family, owner-occupied houses, which could not be recontrolled at local option.

4. CONTROLS would be dropped, but could be reinvoked by cities and towns, in Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Columbia, Dutchess, Fulton, Herkimer, Montgomery, Ontario, Oswego, Saratoga, Seneca, Steuben, Suffolk, Ulster and Yates counties.

5. In Erie and Niagara counties controls would die. Cities and towns could reimpose them on all but one-family houses and two-family, owner-occupied dwellings.

Abrams would be empowered to cut back rents on units declared to be fire hazards and refuse rent increases to landlords whose units were considered detrimental to health. He could also revoke an eviction obtained by fraud.

Carlino said the commission had agreed unanimously to continue commercial rent controls in New York city for another year with some provisions to ease them.

In 1920 about a third of U. S. widows were 65 years old or older, but in 1953 more than half wer 65 or older.

West Saugerties Man Hurt As Tank Truck Overturns

Henry Beaulieu, 31, West Saugerties, was injured this morning when the tank truck he was driving overturned in a field after it was involved in a collision with another truck on Route 9W near Schoentag's south of Saugerties, state police reported.

Beaulieu was taken by ambulance to the Benedictine Hospital, where preliminary examination disclosed he suffered contusions of the entire right side and slight shock, according to the state police report. X-rays were to be taken tomorrow.

Troopers said the accident occurred about 9 a. m. as Beaulieu was driving the fuel oil truck south on 9W and attempting to make a left turn. A following truck, owned by Dierstyne Brothers of Menands and driven by George Wicks, 39, of Albany, collided with the rear of the oil truck, which then went off the east side of the highway and overturned.

Beaulieu was driving a truck owned by DeSomma and Buser of Saugerties, troopers said. The truck apparently was not carrying any fuel at the time. There was no arrest.

Washington, March 24 (AP)—John G. Adams, the army's chief counselor, denied today a charge by Sen. McCarthy (R.-Wis.) that he and top White House aides "conspired" at a Justice Department meeting to block Senate investigation of the Irving Peress case.

Six States Act Against Holding Up of Telephones

Chicago, March 24 (AP) — (Here's a little earful for folks along party lines.

Gossips who refuse to give up such telephone circuits in an emergency can get into trouble in an increasing number of states.

They can be fined or jailed for yacking on and on when somebody wants to use the wire to call the police, firemen or a doctor.

A SURVEY by the Associated Press showed today that statutes of that sort have been put on the law books of six states. Similar proposed laws have been introduced in the Legislatures of nine other states.

Long-winded talkers for years have been earsores to people who share a party line with them. But it was only recently that lawmakers stepped in to legislate courtesy and fair play.

A law enacted in New York last year makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a $50 fine or 30 days in jail, or both, to refuse "wilfully" to give up a party line when informed it is needed for an emergency call.

THE LAW sets the same penalties for telephone phonies who obtain a circuit by falsely claiming an emergency.

Similar laws were enacted last year in Michigan and this year in Massachusetts, Indiana, Arizona and Tennessee.

Bills aimed at forcing chatterboxes to yield when the wire is needed for urgent business have been offered in Legislatures in Colorado, Maryland, New Hampshire, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Vermont, Rhode Island and Ohio.

The Vermont bill would provide a fine of $300. The Rhode Island easure suggested fines ranging from $50 to $300 or 90 days in jail, or both. The Ohio proposal would fix a maximum penalty of 30 days in Jail and a $500 fine.

Why You Crash On the Turnpike

By JAMES G. CROSSLEY
NEA Staff Correspondent

Pittsburgh (NEA) — Friday, not Saturday, is the unlucky day for drinking drivers.

Wednesday is the day for your car to break down with mechanical failure.

For trucks, Friday again is the unlucky day in this respect.

Those are some of the things which showed up in a unique survey of accidents on the Pennsylvania Turnpike—a survey with a message for the millions who drive on the nation's super highways every day.

Nine thousand accident reports were studied, including fender-wrinklers. The report covered 13 years of turnpike traffic. In that time 57 million cars had traveled five and a half billion miles on the road.

Also discovered:

Women fall asleep at the wheel less often than men.

Passenger car accidents are most frequent on week-ends.

Drivers in the 16-to-25 years age group caused 38.5 per cent of the auto accidents.

The same group caused 58 per cent of the falling asleep accidents.

Drivers 46 and older have few sleep accidents.

Drivers 56 and over have more accidents due to deficiencies in driving skill.

The Turnpike Joint Safety Research Group which made the study discovered one clearly illuminated fact:

"Accidents don't just happen. They are caused. Usually it is a result of the failure of the driver to modify his behavior to cope with the driving environment."

Almost half the crashes had one or two causes. There was either a failure to cope with road conditions or unsafe actions.

People got into trouble when they tried illegal maneuvers such as U-turns which are forbidden. As to speed, the researchers found there was a greater "chance for error" at high speeds.

Other main causes of accidents were:

Vehicle failure.

Deficiencies in routine driving ability.

Misperception — misjudgment of rates of speed or a failure to understand what was seen.

Intoxicants.

What can be done to reduce this high rate of man-made accidents?

"Driver education and training," the report says, "appears to be the most promising key to accident reduction."

Need for Engineers

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The Civil Service Commission said today the government needs more engineers. It added that it has taken steps to inform engineering students on every college campus that federal service offers them "unprecedented opportunities to participate in challenging work of vital importance." A pamphlet being sent colleges for distribution to students says the government employs about 47,000 professional engineers "and more are needed."

To Open NP Library Bids

Bid proposals on improvement of grounds for Library Building No. 4, New Paltz State Teachers College, will be opened in Albany this afternoon. The improvement is one of 36 projects for construction, repairs and alterations to state-owned facilities for which bids will be opened, it was announced by John W. Johnson, state superintendent of public works.

GOP to Have 94 More Delegates At '56 Meeting

Washington, March 24 (AP)—A preliminary and unofficial computation by GOP National Committee officials Wednesday showed the 1956 Republican National Convention will be made up of 1,300 delegates, 94 more than in 1952.

The appointment will not be made official until the convention call goes out early next year. The Republicans are slated to meet in San Francisco Aug. 20, 1956. With 1,300 delegates, a majority of 651 would be required to nominate a presidential candidate.

NEARLY ALL of the gain of 94 convention votes stems from the party's system of awarding delegate-at-large bonuses to states casting a majority for the Republican ticket in the preceding presidental election and from gains in the GOP vote in 1952 by congressional districts.

President Eisenhower's vote-pulling power helped the south alone to account for 64 of the 94 delegate gain. Texas shows the largest delegate gain, going from 38 in 1952 to 54 next year.

THE PRELIMINARY delegate apportionment by states for 1956, with the second figure representing 1952 convention strength include: New York 96-96.

Phosphorus needs are critical on more than half of Ohio's farms, an Ohio University study indicates.

Mahoney's Brother Is Held for Robbery

Police said Michael Joseph (Mickey) Mahoney, 17, of 330 E. 121st street, held up Irving Pomerantz March 2 in his Army and Navy Store at 105 3rd avenue.

Named as accomplices in the $1,153 robbery were Robert Robinson, 17, Negro, of 326 E. 124th street and Paul Martinson, 18, of 322 E. 121st street.

THE LATTER two and Donald Mahoney, 19, were held without bail in Bronx Magistrates Court yesterday on a charge they killed Murray Hoffman on March 12 during a holdup of a friend's store.

Michael Mahoney was booked at the East 126th street station house shortly after midnight.

Police said one of the accused trio used a gun in the 3rd avenue robbery and that the weapon had not been recovered.

MEANWHILE, a gun believed to be the one used in the Bronx slaying was turned over to police by Robinson's mother and sent to the ballistics squad for tests.

Robinson, who has been named as the "actual triggerman," said early yesterday that his mother was trying to contact "a fellow" who had the death weapon.

Cat Comes Back

Bradford, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Carrie Barnsdall followed directions when the McKean County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals told her how to get a stray cat out of the cellar. She chased the animal with a broom then plugged up a broken window through which the cat fled. After that Mrs. Barnsdall was a bit confused—Mrs. E. I. Goudate, president of the society, telephoned back: "Would Mrs. Barnsdall please open the window and try to coax the cat back with a saucer of milk?" Mrs. Barnsdall complied. So did the cat. Mrs. Goudate read a lost and found advertisement and realized the stray was a valuable maltese. Now the cat is back home where it is appreciated and wanted.

SUMMER'S COMING — It's lawnmower tune-up time at Prophetstown, Ill., and experts look over machines that have been returned to the manufacturers for annual service check.

A REAL MAN'S JOB—The wife and 11 children of Thomas V. Brennan gather 'round to cheer the Chicago heating contractor on to his herculean task—sewing all the clothes the family will need for the Easter Parade. Mrs. Brennan, standing in the center of the group, is quite confident her husband can do the job, as he is a recent winner of a sewing manufacturer's annual sewing contest.

HIGH ACHIEVEMENT — A Djinn helicopter, built by French Aeronautical Construction Society, makes the first 'copter landing on snowy 13,761-foot Jungfrau in the Swiss Alps.

CUTS HIMSELF A SLICE OF HOUSE—The contractor who took on the job of moving this Manhattan, Kan., house to a new location found that the structure was too tall to take through the city's streets. So he made it a layer-cake operation by sawing the house into two layers for trucking away. The site was needed for a nearby bank's parking lot.

Cat Comes Back

Bradford, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Carrie Barnsdall followed directions when the McKean County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals told her how to get a stray cat out of the cellar. She chased the animal with a broom then plugged up a broken window through which the cat fled. After that Mrs. Barnsdall was a bit confused—Mrs. E. I. Goudate, president of the society, telephoned back: "Would Mrs. Barnsdall please open the window and try to coax the cat back with a saucer of milk?" Mrs. Barnsdall complied. So did the cat. Mrs. Goudate read a lost and found advertisement and realized the stray was a valuable maltese. Now the cat is back home where it is appreciated and wanted.

Fiery Mash

Angola, La. (AP)—Led by their noses, prison officials searching a Louisiana State Penitentiary dormitory stopped at a wall type fire extinguisher. When they unscrewed the top they found it filled with fermenting mash.

Doctor Is Tapped To Lafayette List At Rotary Lunch

Dr. Ralph G. Eveland, DDS, of Palmyra, was tapped yesterday for the National Lafayette Honor List in ceremonies at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Presiding at the ceremonies was Frederic Snyder of Kingston, national chairman of the Lafayette Baton Committee.

THE CITATION, read by Snyder, stated that the nomination of Dr. Eveland had been signed by "executives in organizations which passed resolutions to express the laudation of a wide circle of citizens in Palmyra.

"This citation is published to prove that Dr. Eveland has a substantial account in the eternal treasury of good deeds. We salute one who is progressive in his profession and positive in his faith.

WE REJOICE to applaud him for his origination of the plan—to provide a useful library within the parsonages of rural parishes.

"We attest that a worthy record establishes the fact that he is an adequate American, a creative citizen of the Kingdom of God and the United States of America."

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce assisted in ceremonies preceding the tapping by Snyder, lighting candles for the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

THE BATON used in the tapping was made by students of Newburgh Free Academy from an oaken roof-beam in Washington's headquarters, Newburgh.

Dr. Eveland, who had two sons in the service, one a captive in North Korea for more than a year, practices dentistry in Palmyra near Rochester. He was the 18th person to be tapped by the committee.

Snyder said the committee would seek "from coast to coast" men and women of integrity, honor and creativity to be enrolled on the National Lafayette Honor List.

HE SAID this was the first official visit to Kingston of the Lafayette Baton, an "authentic historic symbol" to honor Americans of creative citizenship.

Among others who have been tapped recently by the committee are Mrs. Frederick E. Hyde of Kingston for her work in U. S. Indian welfare, Mrs. A. Lindsay O'Connor of Hobart, Fritz Kreisler, the violinist, and Jacqueline Cochran, the famous aviatrix.

Ellenville Gets State Aid

The village of Ellenville has been allocated $1,000 in state aid for a recreation project for a 12-month period, the New York State Youth Commission announced today. The village will spend a total of $2,500 during the year for recreation, according to Mayor Frank Muller. Activities, provided jointly with the town of Wawarsing, include recreational, social and cultural programs. School facilities and the Joseph Slutsky Center will be used. The agency responsible for conduct of the program is the recreation committee of which Morris D. Kaufman is chairman.

Heredity Not Important Factor

WEEKLY FOOD REVIEW

(By The Associated Press)

Looking for a bargain in food this week-end? You'll find some good buys in beef chuck roast, pork and veal at many New York markets, and lower price tags on fish, canned vegetables and eggs.

In the beef category there are widely advertised reductions on chuck steak and boneless chuck potroast. But the plushier sirloin and rib roast cuts are mostly unchanged to a little higher.

Pork is still the outstanding buy. Loin roasts and centercut pork chops are down a few cents a pound in several cities. Also featured by many stores as weekend specials are veal rump and shoulder of lamb.

POULTRY PRICES are up a shade in some parts of the country, and fairly steady just about everywhere else. Supplies at wholesale have been somewhat tight lately. But ducks and turkeys should be getting more plentiful soon, and in a week or two broilers and fryers should be coming to market in greater numbers.

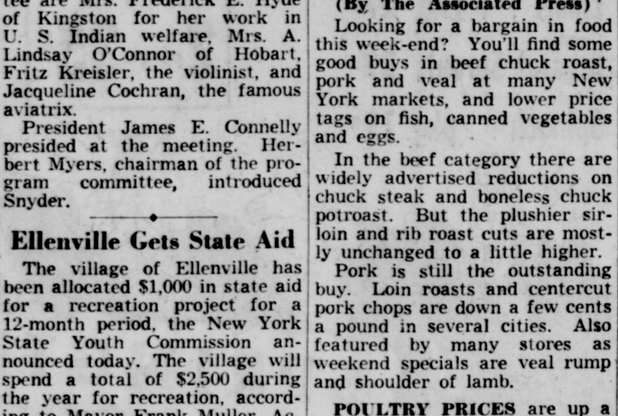
Eggs are a little lower. Retail prices of large Grade "A" whites have dropped about two cents a pound since Saturday.

At the produce counter the bargain-conscious housewife should find some excellent buys this week in potatoes, onions, escarole and dandelion greens. Also plentiful and moderately priced are carrots, celery, cabbage, broccoli and iceberg lettuce. One of the big nationwide chains is featuring tomatoes boxed in cellophane-covered cartons at sharply reduced prices. Fresh string beans are still plentiful and cheap, but in some areas the quality isn't quite as good as it was a week ago.

CITRUS FRUITS are in great abundance. Specials are being widely offered on seedless grapefruit and Valencia oranges from Florida. Here and there you'll find good buys in strawberries and apples.

Department of Agriculture marketing specialists list canned sweet corn and canned snap beans as "food headliners" for this week. Snap beans should be seasoned lightly (minced onion, green pepper, parsley, horseradish, garlic, celery salt or mustard will do) to bring out the delicate vegetable flavor.

The nation's dairymen are putting on a high-powered promotion campaign aimed at getting you to drink more milk. Specifically, they want you to sign a pledge that you'll drink three glasses of milk a day for a 30-day test period. Plans were announced this week at the annual meeting of the American Dairy Assn. in Chicago. The dairymen maintain that you'll feel a lot better after the 30-day milk diet.



BACK-SEAT DRIVER—A new, yet "backward," car is the "600" Fiat, recently introduced in Rome, Italy. The engine, mounted in the rear, is a four-cylinder job which gets 32 miles per gallon and propels the car at 60 mph. As shown in above cutaway diagram, luggage compartment, gas tank and spare tire are under the hood.

Engineer Advises Harriman Wants Program for Work

New York, March 24 (AP)—State Public Works Superintendent John W. Johnson said Wednesday that Gov. Averell Harriman feels that "a tremendous work program to expand and rehabilitate our highways and buildings" can be started this year.

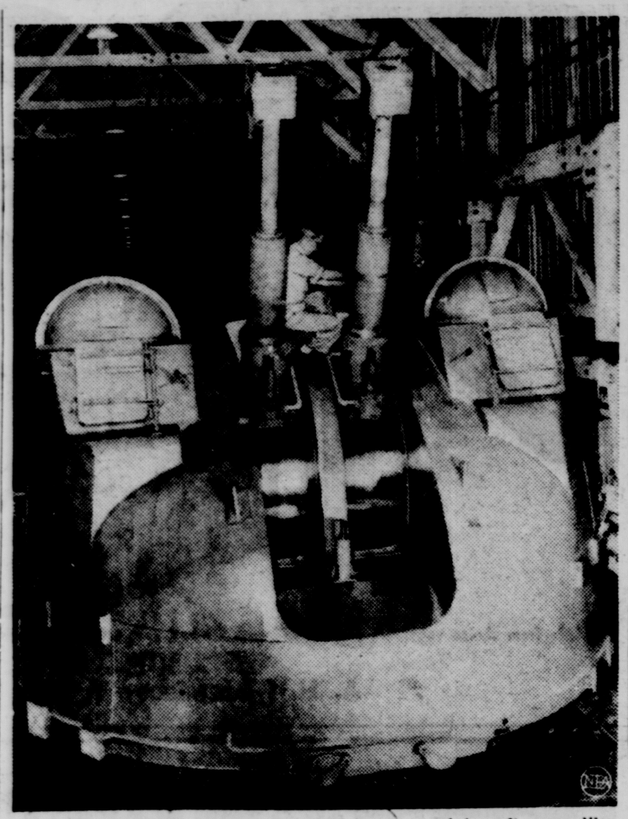
About 1,200 members were expected to register for the three-day meeting.

JOHNSON SAID he had been asked by Harriman to express his determination to undertake a major program to improve highway and building facilities.

"The governor pledges himself to do everything in his power to see that funds are available so that the plans you so ably conceive can be realized without delay," he told the engineers.

"He is confident that during 1955 a tremendous work program to expand and rehabilitate our highways and buildings can be initiated.

"With your loyal cooperation he looks forward to the time when all of our public works will come up to the standards worthy of our continuing role as the foremost state in the union."



SECRET'S OUT—A secret for 10 years, antiaircraft guns like this one are being made for the Navy at Westinghouse Electric's Sunnyvale, Calif., plant. Built for automatic, split-second firing, the huge guns are capable of downing enemy bombers or planes in a suicide dive on the ship. Barrels are not made at the plant, so a short barrel with counterweighted tip is used for balancing.

Engineer Advises Harriman Wants Program for Work

New York, March 24 (AP)—State Public Works Superintendent John W. Johnson said Wednesday that Gov. Averell Harriman feels that "a tremendous work program to expand and rehabilitate our highways and buildings" can be started this year.

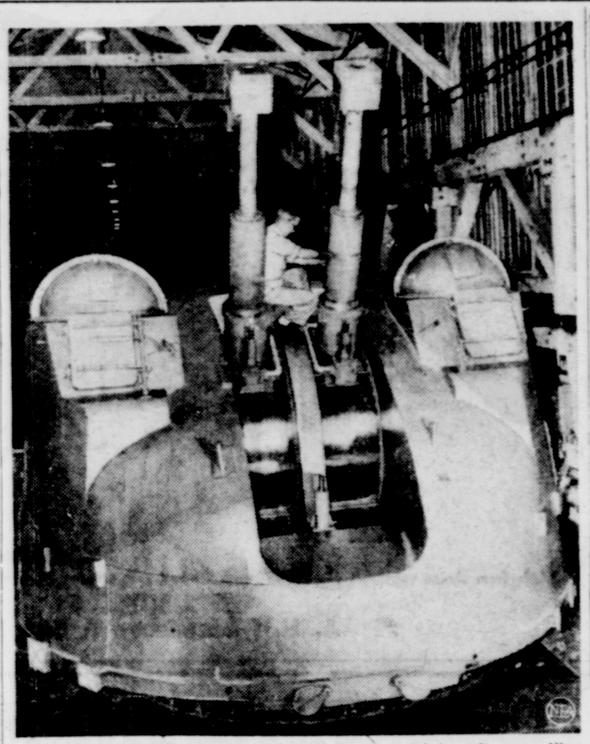
About 1,200 members were expected to register for the three-day meeting.

JOHNSON SAID he had been asked by Harriman to express his determination to undertake a major program to improve highway and building facilities.

"The governor pledges himself to do everything in his power to see that funds are available so that the plans you so ably conceive can be realized without delay," he told the engineers.

"He is confident that during 1955 a tremendous work program to expand and rehabilitate our highways and buildings can be initiated.

"With your loyal cooperation he looks forward to the time when all of our public works will come up to the standards worthy of our continuing role as the foremost state in the union."



SECRET'S OUT—A secret for 10 years, antiaircraft guns like this one are being made for the Navy at Westinghouse Electric's Sunnyvale, Calif., plant. Built for automatic, split-second firing, the huge guns are capable of downing enemy bombers or planes in a suicide dive on the ship. Barrels are not made at the plant, so a short barrel with counterweighted tip is used for balancing.

Ready to Sign

Harrisburg, Pa., March 24 (AP) —Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania is ready to sign into law a State Senate compromise on the administration's unemployment compensation program as soon as the House acts on it finally next week. The measure, passed by the Senate yesterday after six weeks of contorversy, was hailed by Leader as the basis for "one of the fairest unemployment compensation programs" in America. The legislation features a boost May 1 in maximum benefits from $30 a week to $35. At the same time, employer payroll taxes would go to an average of 1.63 per cent for 1955 compared to the 1.1 per cent paid last year.

Byrd Expresses Fear

Washington, March 24 (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today he fears a projected new international trade agency "might tie the hands of the President in dealing with some future emergency." That is why, he said in an interview, he is insisting that the status of the organization be cleared up before the Senate acts on a bill embodying President Eisenhower's program for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act with new authority to reduce tariffs. Secretary of State Dulles told Byrd yesterday the State Department will be ready to offer full testimony on the 34-nation trade body Monday.

Salvage Value of O&W Placed Over 2 Million

New York, March 24 (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission hearing examiner has been told that the rails, ties and bridges on the bankrupt New York, Ontario & Western Railroad's 660 miles of track would have a net salvage value of slightly over two million dollars.

The testimony was given yesterday by Elmor DeWitt of the road's engineering department at a session at which the O&W bondholders sought to show that the road is worth more than its officials report.

THE HEARING to determine the railroad's future continues today.

The bondholders are seeking to prevent sale of the railroad to a Boston group, Samuel M. Pinsly Associates Inc., for $4,600,000. The bondholders want to take over the railroad and operate it themselves. Their 32 million dollars worth of bonds have been in default since 1936.

Testifying before ICC hearing examiner Homer H. Kirby, DeWitt was asked about a sale in 1946 in which the O&W received one million dollars for 94 miles of track. DeWitt said he could not reconcile his present two million dollar salvage figure with the 1946 sale price.

DeWitt suggested, however, that the cost of salvaging trackage might have been less in 1946 than now and that the scrap value of rails might have been higher just after World War 2. The witness said, however, that he had no figures to prove this.

IN ANOTHER phase of testimony about the railroad's financial woes, attorneys for the bondholders tried to show that O&W property at Oswego, N. Y., the northern end of the main line from Middletown, N. Y., was assessed at more than twice the $40,000 value listed for it in the sale plan.

There was testimony by Harold Dowd, an Oswego real estate and insurance broker, that he appraised 12 acres known as the Inland Lakes to the Sea Terminal parcel at $62,000. The assessed valuation of that property and an adjoining parcel of 18 acres, mostly under water, is $82,625, he testified. Normally, Dowd said under cross-examination, the assessed valuation of property in Oswego represents 80 per cent of the market value.

IN FIGURING the underwater parcel as worth about $5,000, Dowd said, he did not take into consideration the possibility of its use in connection with a deep water harbor at Oswego, which is now under construction, to accommodate ships using the projected St. Lawrence Seaway.

Dowd also said he did not know that the O&W spent $80,000 in 1941 to fix up the Inland Lakes property.

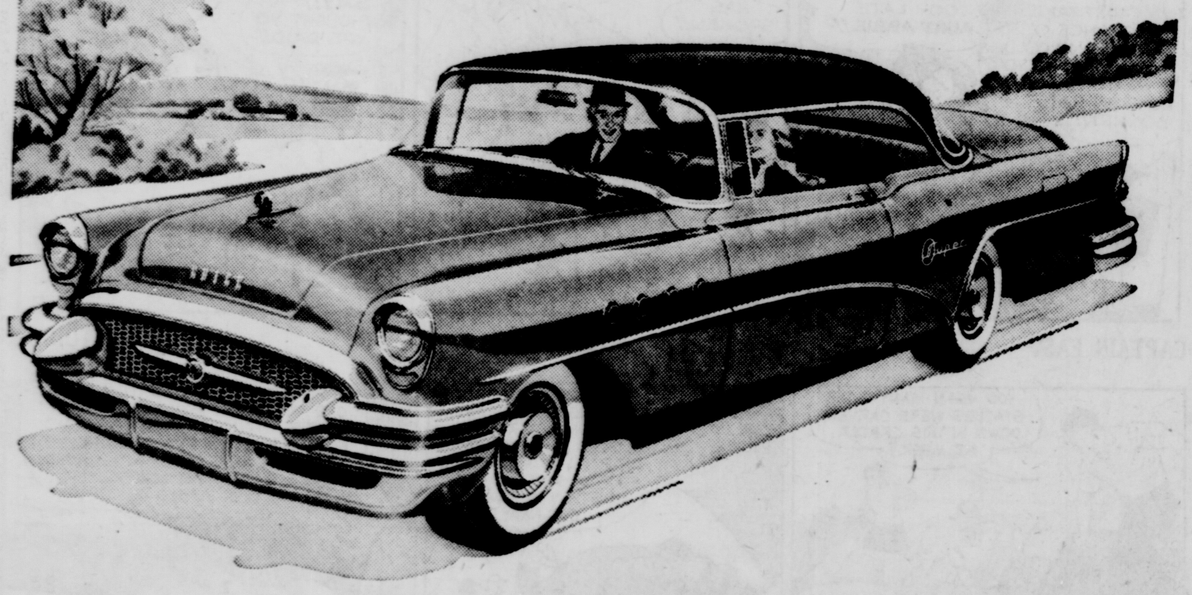
Looks like Buick's Biggest Year



It's been happening week after week.

More people coming in every day to see, sit in, sample and select the '55 Buick of their choice. More people than ever before in our history.

That's why you see so many new Buicks on the road today. And that's why – to meet this unprecedented popularity – Buick production has been boosted to the highest levels of all time.

Buick Sales Are Soaring

The simple measure of it all is this: Buick is so "hot" an automobile that it now outsells all other cars in the United States except two of the best-known smaller cars. And for reasons sound, substantial and thrilling.

Buick styling, you see, was never so crisp, clean, distinctive. Buick horsepower was never so high – Buick interiors never so rich – Buick's great ride never so satin-smooth and steady.

But there's something else, too – something vastly different and exciting.

*Never before was there any motoring thrill like the thrill you get from Buick's spectacular new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

It lets you do what a pilot does—switch the pitch of your driving propellers—one way for gas saving in cruising—another way for instantaneous acceleration and getaway.

Your propellers are inside the Dynaflow unit, spinning in oil. You change their pitch merely by pressure on the gas pedal. You get action that was never in any earth-bound vehicle before.

No wonder we're writing up orders and selling Buicks at a rate that's making this the biggest year in Buick history.

And no wonder—when you see our price tags—that more and more people can afford the price of a new Buick.

For all the way up the line—from the budget-priced SPECIAL to the custom-built ROADMASTER—each Buick is a stand-out buy in its field.

Why not come in for a visit this week and get a down-to-earth look at the hottest Buick in history?

Thrill of the year is Buick

Salvage Value of O&W Placed Over 2 Million

New York, March 24 (AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission hearing examiner has been told that the rails, ties and bridges on the bankrupt New York, Ontario & Western Railroad's 660 miles of track would have a net salvage value of slightly over two million dollars.

The testimony was given yesterday by Elmor DeWitt of the road's engineering department at a session at which the O&W bondholders sought to show that the road is worth more than its officials report.

THE HEARING to determine the railroad's future continues today.

The bondholders are seeking to prevent sale of the railroad to a Boston group, Samuel M. Pinsly Associates Inc., for $4,600,000. The bondholders want to take over the railroad and operate it themselves. Their 32 million dollars worth of bonds have been in default since 1936.

Testifying before ICC hearing examiner Homer H. Kirby, DeWitt was asked about a sale in 1946 in which the O&W received one million dollars for 94 miles of track. DeWitt said he could not reconcile his present two million dollar salvage figure with the 1946 sale price.

DeWitt suggested, however, that the cost of salvaging trackage might have been less in 1946 than now and that the scrap value of rails might have been higher just after World War 2. The witness said, however, that he had no figures to prove this.

IN ANOTHER phase of testimony about the railroad's financial woes, attorneys for the bondholders tried to show that O&W property at Oswego, N. Y., the northern end of the main line from Middletown, N. Y., was assessed at more than twice the $40,000 value listed for it in the sale plan.

There was testimony by Harold Dowd, an Oswego real estate and insurance broker, that he appraised 12 acres known as the Inland Lakes to the Sea Terminal parcel at $62,000. The assessed valuation of that property and an adjoining parcel of 18 acres, mostly under water, is $82,625, he testified. Normally, Dowd said under cross-examination, the assessed valuation of property in Oswego represents 80 per cent of the market value.

IN FIGURING the underwater parcel as worth about $5,000, Dowd said, he did not take into consideration the possibility of its use in connection with a deep water harbor at Oswego, which is now under construction, to accommodate ships using the projected St. Lawrence Seaway.

Dowd also said he did not know that the O&W spent $80,000 in 1941 to fix up the Inland Lakes property.

Looks like Buick's Biggest Year

It's been happening week after week.

More people coming in every day to see, sit in, sample and select the '55 Buick of their choice. More people than ever before in our history.

That's why you see so many new Buicks on the road today. And that's why – to meet this unprecedented popularity – Buick production has been boosted to the highest levels of all time.

Buick Sales Are Soaring

The simple measure of it all is this: Buick is so "hot" an automobile that it now outsells all other cars in the United States except two of the best-known smaller cars. And for reasons sound, substantial and thrilling.

Buick styling, you see, was never so crisp, clean, distinctive. Buick horsepower was never so high – Buick interiors never so rich – Buick's great ride never so satin-smooth and steady.

But there's something else, too – something vastly different and exciting.

*Never before was there any motoring thrill like the thrill you get from Buick's spectacular new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

It lets you do what a pilot does—switch the pitch of your driving propellers—one way for gas saving in cruising—another way for instantaneous acceleration and getaway.

Your propellers are inside the Dynaflow unit, spinning in oil. You change their pitch merely by pressure on the gas pedal. You get action that was never in any earth-bound vehicle before.

No wonder we're writing up orders and selling Buicks at a rate that's making this the biggest year in Buick history.

And no wonder—when you see our price tags—that more and more people can afford the price of a new Buick.

For all the way up the line—from the budget-priced SPECIAL to the custom-built ROADMASTER—each Buick is a stand-out buy in its field.

Why not come in for a visit this week and get a down-to-earth look at the hottest Buick in history?

Phoenicia Children Receive SS Awards

Ten children from Phoenicia Methodist Sunday School were awarded pins and certificates for regular attendance during the past year by the pastor the Rev. Purdy Halstead during church services last Sunday morning.

Those receiving the awards were Jane Schoonmaker, Virginia Larish, Pamela Keator, Patrice Keator, Edna Ferguson, Myrtle Ferguson, Bruce Curtis, Leonard Muhlich and Carl Larish.

Purdy Halstead received the two-year attendance wreath.

Boiler Needs Heat

Dixon, Ill. (AP)—Freezing pipes in the Jefferson School boiler room prompted the Board of Education to ask: "How come?" William Haarbauer of the buildings and grounds committee said the boilers are so well insulated the room got no heat. The board voted $296 for a unit heater for the boiler room.

Textile Plant Is Planned to Give Sloatsburg Jobs

Sloatsburg, March 24 (AP)—An industrialist plans to erect a new textile plant to continue the principal industry of this Rockland county community where a fire has left 200 men jobless.

Julius Rutberg, president of the Ramapo Piece Dye Works, says he hopes to build a new plant in six to eight months to re-employ the 200.

FIRE DESTROYED the Sloatsburg mill early Sunday.

The mill's owner, Harry Schwartz, employed 50 persons in the Schwartz Yarn Co., in the same structure. He was unavailable for discussion of his plans when Rutberg announced his rebuilding project yesterday.

Rutberg estimated his loss at 1½ million dollars in machinery and goods.

Mayor William H. Mapes said a new plant would save the community of 2,200 persons from "a staggering economic loss." He noted that 200 families depended on Rutberg's weekly payroll of more than $10,000. Also, the mill paid eight per cent of the village's taxes.

THE MEN THROWN out of work are specialists in printing and embossing piece goods.

The idle men will receive benefits from the State Unemployment Insurance fund in two weeks, County Welfare Commissioner Fred B. Nidd said yesterday. He added that families with children will get immediate public assistance.

Cafeteria Service

Atlanta (AP)—An odor reminded of a fish-wharf in July crept through the Fulton county courthouse and sent a maintenance man on a quick investigation. He found a fish sandwich taped to a light bulb. The heat had burned through the wrapper and into the fish. It was a maid's idea of keeping her lunch warm.

Saugerties Post Is Important In Civil Defense

The strategic importance of the Saugerties Ground Observer Post was stressed today in a news release from Ulster Kingston Civil Defense Council.

Praising the post and its personnel for operational efficiency, CD officials reported that the post is considered by the Air Force as being of primary importance because of its geographical position.

IT IS THE most northern station reporting to the White Plains Filter Center and as such would give the first alarm of hostile planes approaching from the North.

The Saugerties post, like those in Kingston and Wallkill, operates on full time basis, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The building is located on what is known as Nanny Goat Hill in the village of Saugerties and affords the observers an uninterrupted view of 360 degrees. On a normal day, approximately 40 planes are reported to the filter center, and as many as 130 flights have been reported in a single 24-hour period.

THE OPERATION is under direction of Arnold Stanley, post supervisor; Mrs. Rita Gavigan, chief observer, and Mrs. Sarah Keenan, assistant chief observer. It is manned by a corps of volunteers drawn from the town of Saugerties.

Fraud Is Charged

Buenos Aires, Argentina, March 24 (AP) — Government charges of fraud directed today at parochial schools appeared to dash hopes for an early truce between Roman Catholic Church officials and the Peron regime. President Juan D. Peron's Education Ministry accused 89 private Roman Catholic schools of defrauding the government of more than four million pesos ($300,000).

Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he is going to talk about the Yalta conference "whenever it is pertinent" despite President Eisenhower's statement such discussions gain nothing. The President told his news conference yesterday he saw no advantage in going back 10 years and showing, in the light of after events, that somebody may have been wrong or right. "President Eisenhower was expressing his personal opinion on this matter and I don't agree with him," said Knowland, the GOP leader. "I intend to continue to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it is pertinent."

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 24 (AP)—The stock market pushed upward strongly today toward the old peak levels of three weeks ago.

Prices were up between 1 and 3 points in many divisions while some gains ran on out to around 7 points.

Business expanded as prices improved, and the pace exceeded the three million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,730,000 shares.

It was three weeks ago tomorrow that the market on average touched historic high peaks. Then it tumbled in a severe break that lasted a little more than a week.

Since then it has been in a sustained recovery movement with strong gains shown in the three sessions since Monday.

Russia Proposes Weapons Ban

Moscow, March 24 (AP)—Pravda said today Russia has made a new proposal for banning nuclear weapons, reductions of conventional arms and international inspection to ensure compliance.

The Communist Party organ said the proposal was made to the five-nation UN disarmament subcommittee at the secret talks now being held in London.

As explained, by Pravda, the plan largely parallels the proposal Russia put before the UN General Assembly last fall, except that it goes more fully into the disputed question of a control organ to guarantee that disarmament is carried out.

The plan calls for all nations to sign a convention agreeing to arms reduction in two stages:

1. A 50 per cent cut in conventional arms and destruction of all atomic, hydrogen and other "mass destruction" weapons within six months of the signing.

2. A second 50 per cent cut during the ensuing six-month period.

The signers also would agree not to produce mass destruction weapons.

Someone went off with a storm window from a Prospect street home and the recent March winds are not suspected.

Mrs. W. P. Shaw, of 138 Prospect street, notified police at 2:15 p. m., yesterday that the 36 by 60 inch windw is missing. She was away for 10 days, and it might have been taken during that time, she said today. Police indicated there was no apparent attempt at entering the house through the window.

Maple Hill Slope Is Washed Away

A section of the newly built slope for the Route 32 thruway overpass at Maple Hill, washed away to within two feet of the pavement, during the recent rain, but caused no serious damage, it was learned today.

Harry Krom, state highway engineer, stationed here, said today that the section was filled in a short time by a maintenance crew, but he indicated the washout of fill could have been serious if the hole extended closer to the pavement.

Contract Signed To Wreck Houses

A contract was signed today between the Kingston Housing Authority and the Poughkeepsie Wrecking Company of Poughkeepsie for the demolition of a block of buildings in the Ann street section of the city. The Poughkeepsie concern was low bidder with a bid of $7,950.

George E. Yerry, Jr., speaking for the Authority, said work of demolishing the structures would probably commence next week as soon as the necessary insurance papers are completed and filed.

Ike Nominates EconomyAdvisers

Washington, March 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Joseph S. Davis of Stanford, Calif., and Raymond J. Saulnier of New York, both professional economists, to be new members of his Council of Economic Advisers.

THE NOMINATIONS are subject to Senate confirmation.

Davis, listed by the White House as a political independent, is professor emeritus of economic research at Stanford University. The White House said his research has been largely in the fields of food and agriculture.

Saulnier is a Republican, the White House said. He is a professor of economics at Barnard College, Columbia University.

Saulnier has served since May, 1953 as a consultant to the council of economic advisers.

Saugerties Post Is Important In Civil Defense

The strategic importance of the Saugerties Ground Observer Post was stressed today in a news release from Ulster Kingston Civil Defense Council.

Praising the post and its personnel for operational efficiency, CD officials reported that the post is considered by the Air Force as being of primary importance because of its geographical position.

IT IS THE most northern station reporting to the White Plains Filter Center and as such would give the first alarm of hostile planes approaching from the North.

The Saugerties post, like those in Kingston and Wallkill, operates on full time basis, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The building is located on what is known as Nanny Goat Hill in the village of Saugerties and affords the observers an uninterrupted view of 360 degrees. On a normal day, approximately 40 planes are reported to the filter center, and as many as 130 flights have been reported in a single 24-hour period.

THE OPERATION is under direction of Arnold Stanley, post supervisor; Mrs. Rita Gavigan, chief observer, and Mrs. Sarah Keenan, assistant chief observer. It is manned by a corps of volunteers drawn from the town of Saugerties.

Buenos Aires, Argentina, March 24 (AP) — Government charges of fraud directed today at parochial schools appeared to dash hopes for an early truce between Roman Catholic Church officials and the Peron regime. President Juan D. Peron's Education Ministry accused 89 private Roman Catholic schools of defrauding the government of more than four million pesos ($300,000).

Won't Stop Talking

Washington, March 24 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he is going to talk about the Yalta conference "whenever it is pertinent" despite President Eisenhower's statement such discussions gain nothing. The President told his news conference yesterday he saw no advantage in going back 10 years and showing, in the light of after events, that somebody may have been wrong or right. "President Eisenhower was expressing his personal opinion on this matter and I don't agree with him," said Knowland, the GOP leader. "I intend to continue to discuss Yalta whenever I believe it is pertinent."

Dies of Injuries

Sharon, Conn., March 24 (AP)—Mrs. Alice Desmarais, 50, of Dover, N. Y., died in Sharon Hospital last night of injuries received in an automobile accident. The accident occurred across the state line on New York's Route 22 near Millerton in Dutchess county, the same county in which her home was located. She was riding with a son in a car which ran off the road and overturned.

Conviction Upheld

Washington, March 24 (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld the perjury conviction of racketeer Joe Adonis for falsely telling the Senate Crime Investigating Committee he was a U. S. citizen. Adonis, who is fighting a deportation move, received a sentence of 18 to 24 months. He has been out on bond pending appeal of that conviction.

Tallest Structure

A 1,572-foot television tower at Oklahoma City is claimed as the world's tallest structure by its users, comparing it with the 1,472-foot Empire State Building.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 24 (AP)—The stock market pushed upward strongly today toward the old peak levels of three weeks ago.

Prices were up between 1 and 3 points in many divisions while some gains ran on out to around 7 points.

Business expanded as prices improved, and the pace exceeded the three million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,730,000 shares.

It was three weeks ago tomorrow that the market on average touched historic high peaks. Then it tumbled in a severe break that lasted a little more than a week.

Since then it has been in a sustained recovery movement with strong gains shown in the three sessions since Monday.

317 Join Graham

Glasgow, Scotland, March 24 (AP)—Another 317 Scots made their "decision for Christ" last night as Billy Graham's great revival crusade wound up its third day. "The record for decisions has passed 1,000 in three days," said Jerry Beavan, the American evangelist's executive secretary. "We never have had such success so early in a crusade."

TRUCK CRASHES INTO BUS—A young rescuer climbs through a rear window of a bus on Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, March 23, after the tractor-trailer truck at left plowed into the rear of the Philadelphia Transporation company carrier, injuring 12 of the passengers aboard. Police said the impact of the truck drove the bus across the roadway, with the nose of the truck buried into the rear of the bus. Drivers of both truck and bus also were injured. (AP Wirephoto)

Russia Proposes Weapons Ban

Moscow, March 24 (AP)—Pravda said today Russia has made a new proposal for banning nuclear weapons, reductions of conventional arms and international inspection to ensure compliance.

The Communist Party organ said the proposal was made to the five-nation UN disarmament subcommittee at the secret talks now being held in London.

As explained, by Pravda, the plan largely parallels the proposal Russia put before the UN General Assembly last fall, except that it goes more fully into the disputed question of a control organ to guarantee that disarmament is carried out.

The plan calls for all nations to sign a convention agreeing to arms reduction in two stages:

1. A 50 per cent cut in conventional arms and destruction of all atomic, hydrogen and other "mass destruction" weapons within six months of the signing.

2. A second 50 per cent cut during the ensuing six-month period.

The signers also would agree not to produce mass destruction weapons.

Storm Window Stolen On Prospect Street

Someone went off with a storm window from a Prospect street home and the recent March winds are not suspected.

Mrs. W. P. Shaw, of 138 Prospect street, notified police at 2:15 p. m., yesterday that the 36 by 60 inch windw is missing. She was away for 10 days, and it might have been taken during that time, she said today. Police indicated there was no apparent attempt at entering the house through the window.

Maple Hill Slope Is Washed Away

A section of the newly built slope for the Route 32 thruway overpass at Maple Hill, washed away to within two feet of the pavement, during the recent rain, but caused no serious damage, it was learned today.

Harry Krom, state highway engineer, stationed here, said today that the section was filled in a short time by a maintenance crew, but he indicated the washout of fill could have been serious if the hole extended closer to the pavement.

Contract Signed To Wreck Houses

A contract was signed today between the Kingston Housing Authority and the Poughkeepsie Wrecking Company of Poughkeepsie for the demolition of a block of buildings in the Ann street section of the city. The Poughkeepsie concern was low bidder with a bid of $7,950.

George E. Yerry, Jr., speaking for the Authority, said work of demolishing the structures would probably commence next week as soon as the necessary insurance papers are completed and filed.

Ike Nominates Economy Advisers

Washington, March 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Joseph S. Davis of Stanford, Calif., and Raymond J. Saulnier of New York, both professional economists, to be new members of his Council of Economic Advisers.

Davis, 69, would succeed Walter W. Stewart whose resignation, effective April 30, was accepted by the President today.

THE NOMINATIONS are subject to Senate confirmation.

Arthur F. Burns remains as chairman of the three-man council.

Davis, listed by the White House as a political independent, is professor emeritus of economic research at Stanford University. The White House said his research has been largely in the fields of food and agriculture.

Saulnier is a Republican, the White House said. He is a professor of economics at Barnard College, Columbia University.

Saulnier has served since May, 1953 as a consultant to the council of economic advisers.

Two Phone Employes Promoted

ELAINE HAMMOND

BARBARA J. BOWER

Two women employes of the New York Telephone Company, one of them a native of Kingston, have been promoted by the company, Leonard W. Herrick, telephone company manager, announced today.

The changes, which are effective April 1, involve positions in the company's commercial department at Kingston and Albany.

Miss Elaine Hammond, daughter of Mrs. Georgianna Hammond of 15-A Miller's Lane, Kingston, has been named assistant engineer in the general commercial engineer's office at Albany.

Miss Barbara J. Bower, an assistant engineer at the Albany office, has been appointed commercial supervisor-field operations in the Kingston district.

A LIFELONG resident of Kingston, Miss Hammond has been business office supervisor in the Kingston office since September 1952. She joined the telephone company in November 1944 as a business office representative in Kingston. She is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Miss Bower's telephone career began in October 1942 when she joined the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company as a representative in the commercial department at Holyoke, Massachusetts. Later she was assigned to the division training staff with headquarters in Springfield, Massachusetts.

SHE TRANSFERRED to the New York Telephone Company in 1948 as a representative in Albany. From December 1948 until November 1954, when she was named assistant engineer, Miss Bower served as business office supervisor in Albany.

In her new position, Miss Bower will assist J. W. Johnson, Kingston district manager, in the administration of the district's eight business offices. These offices handle 112,000 accounts for more than 140,000 telephones in the district.

Freed Teacher Is Silent About Reds

Yokohama, Japan, March 24 (AP)—Mrs. Adele Austin Rickett tomorrow starts the last leg of a long journey from a Chinese Communist prison to the United States.

Mrs. Rickett spent 3½ years in a Red jail. Her husband is still there.

'I said all I intend to say in Hong Kong. You are only wasting your time. I was very patient in Hong Kong when the press interviewed me for several hours."

Mrs. Rickett told Hong Kong newsmen the Reds had treated her "wonderfully."

Malcolm Bersohn of New York, who was released at the same time as Mrs. Rickett, echoed her words in Hong Kong. He repeated them yesterday when he arrived in New York. Hong Kong observers said both had been thoroughly brainwashed.

Did Mrs. Rickett hope by her Hong Kong statements to speed the release of her 33-year-old husband, Walter? She smiled sadly, and refused to answer.

SHE IS RETURING home on the freighter Pine Tree Mariner. The ship sails tomorrow on a 9 or 10-day trip to San Francisco.

The attractive brown-haired woman is leading the life of an ordinary passenger, visiting amiably with 11 fellow passengers and sightseeing on an ordinary shore pass.

First-Rate Acting in Great Big Doorstep, Current Offering by Coach House Players

The story of riches to rags and back to riches was told in The Great Big Doorstep, one of the finest efforts to date of the Coach House Players, at the George Washington School last night. And for those who had other commitments for the evening, the play is repeated tonight at 8:30 p. m. at the school. Don't miss it.

Poverty is not the most attractive state, but it provided a vehicle to exhibit some first-rate acting and set design by this active local amateur group.

THE ACTION of the play centers around the great big white doorstep that floated to the Crochet family in a Mississippi flood, and their subsequent efforts to get a house to match. The one on stage is certainly not the elegant backing the doorsteps demand.

FIRST HONORS to go to Eve Wulff (Mrs. Roy Wulff) as the harried but determined "cajun" mother of a brood of six settled in a tumble-down house deep in the Louisiana bayous. Sharing the "first" title, is Paul Whitten, padded and puffing, as her lazy but lovable husband. His weakness for good food led to losing a fine job as riverboat pilot, when he fell asleep and lost a load of mules. And his gourmet's reputation now leads to "whistles and sirens" when he's overfed on his "drainage expert" jobs.

Mother Crochet (Eve) ranges from the determined, when she's about to get a job herself, to the philosophical, when she's admiring sunsets on the bayous or musing about the "house that dies when nobody's in it." Her role took on professional dimension as she drew the picture of the worried mother who wanted to keep her family together, and whose faith, and lilies, finally turned the trick. There are many moments of humor in her role, which she handled nicely, as well as moments of taut drama. A far sight from her usual glamorous self, Eve Wulff gave the audience her interpretation of the unusual role with a fairly complete scale of histrionics.

PAUL WHITTEN, who's a more recent member of the Players, showed that he knew what to do with a gem of a role when he moaned and groaned and bewailed his "failure" in life as the "Commodore" last night. In his first appearance with the Players, he was the blind son in House without Windows. Last night, he was the down and out head of a household, who used more brainpower lining up loans, than muscle power working for money. He never once let the character slip from his grasp, but carried through on every suggestion of voice, posture and gesture. So thorough, it was hard to imagine him as Paul Whitten when the curtain came down on Act 3.

As the older daughters, Yolanda Kriz and Joan Curtin made much of their parts. Mrs. Kriz had a good scene as she imagined herself the heroine of "Evangeline." Joan Curtin's rebellious mood, certainly justifiable, was well expressed.

Robert Steeley, as Arthur Crochet, though not on stage as much as the others, made himself known in his role as the eldest of the Crochet brood. The program note that he's a "decided asset to our roster," received a firm second through his portrayal last night.

THE TWO younger daughters were cute-as-buttons Karen Dawkins and Mary Swezy, in jeans and barefeet. Their funniest moment was when they crowded up to listen to the "whistles and sirens" in their father's middle. And such stage presence for youngsters. A joy to watch.

Roy Wulff played an important though minor role as Mr. Tobin, the object of the daydreams of Eyvie (Yolanda Kriz). Used to appearing as senators and playboys, he was nevertheless believable as the kindly "Texas Protestant."

In smaller roles, Maureen Rice established that Mrs. Dupre the landlady was not a genial person, and Alton Whitmore proved that Tayo Delacroix lived up to his reputation as quite a villain.

Kay Levy as the lily-buyer showed that minor refers only to the number of lines, and does not limit what can be done with them. There was some droll humor evident in her dialogue with the Crochets.

Ed Guziak as the Crochet who worked for a living was a pathetic figure as he tried to distribute gifts to "his only family." No more hiding backstage when such talent as his can be used for many character roles.

THE THEME of this play by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett could have been very depressing had anyone taken time out to think it over more than once. But as the action moved on, the audience was caught up in the "head dreams" of the Crochets, and looked only to something better for them, instead of status quo or a backsliding.

HOUSTON RICHARDS directed the three act piece. The background, as noted in an article here yesterday, expertly done by Sally Gallagher and Harriette Engelen, gave the feeling of outdors and sunshine complete with river and cattails. The play, with set, travel to Kerhonkson Saturday night, since the construction is so movable.

THE TECHNICAL staff responsible for the construction includes: Dennis Brady, Ed Guziak, Arthur Hansen, William Felsen, Ralph Harper, Richard Becker, Maureen Rice, Edward Finn, Irving Rose and Caroline Whitmore. The stage setting was by Mary Becker, Olive Lahl, Marion Harper, Peggy Beal, and Scott Foster. Costumes, Kay Finn. Make-up, Dorothy Buehring, Dorothy Schantz and Terry Roberts. Publicity, Gertrude Felsen and Tess Lloyd. Tickets, Madeline Reis. Ushers were Henry Schantz, Norman Shapiro, Hilda Krum, Margaret Mellert and Dorothy Shapiro. Program, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wulff.

Capping Exercises were conducted at the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing in a ceremony, Sunday.

Twenty-seven students were capped by the senior class, who also presented them with corsages of pink carnations. The newly capped students carrying lighted candles walked up the aisle in the chapel to the altar rail where they sang the Florence Nightingale Pledge for Nurses. The candles were then placed on the Blessed Virgin's altar, and a hymn to the Blessed Mother followed.

AN ADDRESS was given by the Rev. Paul F. Huber, O. S. B., pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Wilmington, Del., in which he impressed upon the students their responsibility and dignity as nurses.

Father Paul said in part, "In our day, with adequate physical facilities in hospitals and well qualified nurses, much can be done to bring patients to rapid recovery. There have been many discoveries which can do immeasurable good to humanity in distress and pain." Emphasis was placed on the fact that "A good nurse is a kind nurse."

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Father Paul and the ceremony brought to a close, with the singing of "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name."

First-Rate Acting in Great Big Doorstep, Current Offering by Coach House Players

The story of riches to rags and back to riches was told in The Great Big Doorstep, one of the finest efforts to date of the Coach House Players, at the George Washington School last night. And for those who had other commitments for the evening, the play is repeated tonight at 8:30 p. m. at the school. Don't miss it.

Poverty is not the most attractive state, but it provided a vehicle to exhibit some first-rate acting and set design by this active local amateur group.

A LUCKY TICKET

A young woman explains: "The other evening my aunt gave me two tickets to a card party to which she could not go. The holder of each ticket was entitled to a chance on a door prize. My ticket was one of the lucky ones to be drawn and I won a very lovely prize. My mother feels that since I won the prize on my aunt's ticket that she is entitled to it and that I should turn it over to her. Will you please tell me what is proper in a situation of this kind?"

Your aunt gave you the ticket and thereafter had no further rights to it, and under the circumstances you may quite correctly keep the prize.

Announcing Son's Marriage

Dear Mrs. Post: Our son will be sailing soon for Holland where he will be married to a young woman he met there while in the army. I would like to know if it would be proper for us, his parents, to send out engraved announcements of his marriage to our many friends and relatives here, and if so, how should they be worded?

Answer: In this situation it would be entirely proper for the bridegroom's parents to send out announcements of their son's marriage. The wording would be as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones ... have the honour to announce the marriage of Miss Frieda Van der Goes to
John Henry

Who Makes First Move?

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited to lunch in a restaurant with a friend, whose place is it to suggest leaving after they have finished eating—the hostess or the guest?

Answer: The hostess is usually the one to suggest leaving—unless the guest has some reason to wish to leave before she does this.

What does the well-dressed business woman wear? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but readers wishing an answer to the above question will find it in leaflet E-35, "The Well-Dressed Woman." Leave for U. S.

Rome, March 24 (AP)—Premier Mario Scelba and Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino left by air today for a 14-day visit to the United States and Canada. They will spend three days in Washington discussing mutual problems with President Eisenhower and other U. S. officials. Before boarding the plane for Montreal, the premier said the aim of his trip was not to make new accords but a deepen already existing relations.

Reds Return Pair

Heidelberg, Germany, March 24 (AP)—An American helicopter pilot and a German national forced down last Thursday in Communist East Germany were returned to U. S. custody today. U. S. Army headquarters here said the pilot, 1st. Lt. Herman E. Jacquay, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and his passenger, Horst Kuehn, were turned over to American officials at the Soviet zone border near Fulda. They disappeared on a flight in strong winds and snow squalls in the Fulda area. The Soviets announced earlier this week they had landed unhurt in the East zone.

Ulster Educators To Meet Next Monday

The Ulster Educators will have its annual dinner at Rhoda Arms, Newburgh, Monday, March 28, at 6:30 p. m.

This meeting will honor several teachers who are retiring this year. Many former members of the organization are planning to attend. Board members have been invited.

The Ulster Educators are teachers of Supervisory District 2 of Ulster county. The organization's activities aim toward professional growth. Through the work of the executive committee and the cooperation of the delegates to the house of delegates, teachers are kept informed of legislation for the improvement of the schools. The organization under the guidance of District Superintendent Ralph Johnson, New Paltz, is in cooperation with the N. Y. State Teachers Association.

Because of Johnson's retirement this year, the organization will probably be disbanded because the county will be rezoned. Therefore, this final meeting is plannd to especially honor all retiring teachers.

Further information may be secured by contacting Jack Robinson, Marlborough School. Robinson is a member of the house of delegates and state chairman of the credentials committee. He is active in New York State Teachers Association and has been a member of Ulster Educators for many years.

The spring conference will be held at Wallkill Central School on April 18.

Bearsville Store And Post Office Grand Opening

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van Wagenen, owners of the Bearsville store property, have completed alterations and renovations to the building and this week are holding a grand opening of the store. The store and post office has been completely remodeled and additional facilities added.

A COMBINED grocery, feed store and meat market as well as the post office is housed in the building. Mrs. Louise Van Wagenen, postmistress, has added 200 boxes and the postoffice section has been considerably enlarged.

The space in the store has been doubled and a meat market added with a new meat cooler, 14 by 18 feet in size.

In addition to the feed and grain department a complete farm and garden supply section is included with everything for the farm except "farm implements and animals." A delivery is maintained for farm supplies.

THE CONTRACT for the work was awarded to I. J. Rose and Son of Bearsville. Ample parking space has been provided for customers.

Gale Stalls Liner

Southampton, England, March 24 (AP)—A 60-mile-an-hour gale kept the liner Queen Mary from leaving for New York today. Cunard Line officials postponed the sailing until tomorrow morning. The big ship has 845 passengers on board. Another 210 are to join her at Cherbourg, France.

Action Delayed on Clashes

United Nations, March 24 (AP)—The UN Security Council has delayed action until next week on Egyptian-Israeli border clashes. It heard a plea by Israel yesterday for Egypt to join her in a pledge not to use force along the frontier. The plea was made by Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban in his country's first formal statement to the council on the Feb. 28 Gaza clash, in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israeli were killed. Eban restated Israel's contention that the Gaza strip attack was in retaliation for numerous Egyptian acts of aggression against Israel. He told the council that if Egypt would agree to convert the six-year-old armistice agreement into a permanent peace, Israel would guarantee its people would not carry out hostile acts against Egypt.

Ulster Educators To Meet Next Monday

The Ulster Educators will have its annual dinner at Rhoda Arms, Newburgh, Monday, March 28, at 6:30 p. m.

This meeting will honor several teachers who are retiring this year. Many former members of the organization are planning to attend. Board members have been invited.

The Ulster Educators are teachers of Supervisory District 2 of Ulster county. The organization's activities aim toward professional growth. Through the work of the executive committee and the cooperation of the delegates to the house of delegates, teachers are kept informed of legislation for the improvement of the schools. The organization under the guidance of District Superintendent Ralph Johnson, New Paltz, is in cooperation with the N. Y. State Teachers Association.

Because of Johnson's retirement this year, the organization will probably be disbanded because the county will be rezoned. Therefore, this final meeting is plannd to especially honor all retiring teachers.

Further information may be secured by contacting Jack Robinson, Marlborough School. Robinson is a member of the house of delegates and state chairman of the credentials committee. He is active in New York State Teachers Association and has been a member of Ulster Educators for many years.

The spring conference will be held at Wallkill Central School on April 18.

Adobe Lesson

Albuquerque (AP) — An expert attests the quality of southwestern adobes — mud bricks from which many homes are built. Farhad Ganjei of Tehran, Iran, on a tour, says adobe is the main building material in his country but the bricks here are larger and thicker, more durable, and are put to better use than in Iran.

The white lily was one of the commonest garden flowers of the ancient world.

The United States had 4,060,000 babies born in 1954.

Bearsville Store And Post Office Grand Opening

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van Wagenen, owners of the Bearsville store property, have completed alterations and renovations to the building and this week are holding a grand opening of the store. The store and post office has been completely remodeled and additional facilities added.

A COMBINED grocery, feed store and meat market as well as the post office is housed in the building. Mrs. Louise Van Wagenen, postmistress, has added 200 boxes and the postoffice section has been considerably enlarged.

The space in the store has been doubled and a meat market added with a new meat cooler, 14 by 18 feet in size.

In addition to the feed and grain department a complete farm and garden supply section is included with everything for the farm except "farm implements and animals." A delivery is maintained for farm supplies.

THE CONTRACT for the work was awarded to I. J. Rose and Son of Bearsville. Ample parking space has been provided for customers.

Gale Stalls Liner

Southampton, England, March 24 (AP)—A 60-mile-an-hour gale kept the liner Queen Mary from leaving for New York today. Cunard Line officials postponed the sailing until tomorrow morning. The big ship has 845 passengers on board. Another 210 are to join her at Cherbourg, France.

Action Delayed on Clashes

United Nations, March 24 (AP)—The UN Security Council has delayed action until next week on Egyptian-Israeli border clashes. It heard a plea by Israel yesterday for Egypt to join her in a pledge not to use force along the frontier. The plea was made by Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban in his country's first formal statement to the council on the Feb. 28 Gaza clash, in which 38 Egyptians and eight Israeli were killed. Eban restated Israel's contention that the Gaza strip attack was in retaliation for numerous Egyptian acts of aggression against Israel. He told the council that if Egypt would agree to convert the six-year-old armistice agreement into a permanent peace, Israel would guarantee its people would not carry out hostile acts against Egypt.

Harry's Angels Meet Hudson in Tourney Game Here Tonight

KHS Stars Added To Lineup for Y Champion Five

Harry's Angels, winners of the YMCA Basketball League title this year, strengthened by the addition of two of the 1955 Kingston High School cage stars, make their first appearance in the second annual Kingston Basketball Tournament tonight at municipal auditorium against the Hudson Knights of Columbus.

Game time is 7:30 o'clock.

Sparked by the Y loop's high scorer, Champ Holstein, the Angels have come up with Skip Brodhead and Ray Lawrence from the KHS roster in addition to Randy Seigel, New Paltz College basketeer.

THE ANGELS, who won their first game Monday night in the Hudson Valley Tourament in Poughkepsie, also will have available Bud Scheffel, a tremendous rebounder and Ward Dunham, captain and playmaker of the team.

Johnny Godwin, another erstwhile Maroon and White star, now at New Paltz, also will be in the lineup for the Angels.

Hudson, comprising a strong squad of veterans, will have Steve Omelanckuk and Paul Miller, two of the team's top scorers. Willie Troy, veteran player with the Hudson Elks; Wilson Shea and Ed Sullivan round out the starting five for Hudson.

TONIGHT'S SECOND GAME, scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, will feature Otisville and Harlem Valley of Dover Plains.

Otisville, last year's surprise in the local tournament, comes in this year with an even better squad. In the 1954 competition, Otisville was given little chance of surviving the first round but went on to surprise everyone with a fourth place finish.

Jerry Ketcham, crack scorer for the Otisville High School team, has been added to the roster while Bob Walker and Roy Walker, John Clausman and Jay Decker are back from the 1954 entry.

DOVER PLAINS is composed of high school aces. The Plainsmen, also entered in the Poughkeepsie tournament, defeated Ketterson Motors of Newburgh in their initial outing.

The squad is led by Vinnie Salas, a six foot, four inch Dutchess all-county player from Roosevelt High. Bob Scott, also all-county player from Dover Plains High, Tom Frost, all-county player from Roosevelt High; Larry Colligan, the team's top rebounder; Phil Taber and Bob Callahan round out an impressive array of players.

After tonight's doubleheader, tournament action is scheduled for next Tuesday night with the Poughkeepsie Trabassos meeting Sickler's Delivery and the Pine Plains Bombardiers, last year's winners, engaging the Reddy Kilowatts of Newburgh. Empire Diner, winner over Cairo Legion in the first round, will meet Lincoln Center of Poughkeepsie March 31 at 7:30 and Cornwall will play the Ketterson Pistons at 8:30 o'clock that night.

U.S. Holds Big Lead In Games

Mexico City, March 24 (AP)—Action packed finals in six events kept the Pan-American swimming and diving scene humming today, with the United States far in front in points and continuing its domination in the overall picture of these 1955 Little Olympics.

Mexico's superb Joaquin Capilla was favored to capture the 10-meter platform diving crown to go with his 3-meter title, and Patricia McCormick of the U. S. was expected to duplicate the feat in the women's diving.

THE UNOFFICIAL POINTS for the U. S. in swimming and diving, including victories in the 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke yesterday, stood:

The U. S. 106, Argentina 40, Mexico 29, Canada 23, and Brazil 12, to list the major teams. This was for nine events, with nine to go.

The story was even more resounding for the games as a whole. The count: U. S. 1,260½, Argentina 523½, Mexico 337.

Swimming and diving competition occupied most of the international interest. These events wind up late tomorrow.

Determined Jimmy McLane of the U. S. Army and ex-Olympic games hero, became the first U. S. double gold medal winner when he won the 400 meter freestyle yesterday, beating out teammate Wayne Moore, and Argentina's Oscar Kramer, and breaking the games' record.

McLANE, WHO or may not point for a place in his third Olympics next year, swam the distance in 4:51.3, beating the 4:52.4 made by Tetsuo Okamato of Brazil in 1951.

Furgol in Field

Ed Furgol, U. S. Open golf champion, entered the 1955 British Open championship, it was announced in New York today. Furgol's entry was accepted for the July 3-4 Open to be played over the old course at St. Andrew's in Scotland.

Andersen Excels With Rebounding; Cedaraps Score

Accord, ninth place team in the YMCA Basketball League standings, registered a 50 to 36 upset over the Blacktops Wednesday night, thanks to some terrific rebounding by Andy Andersen.

The victory was all the more outstanding when considering the Blacktops have been the only team this year to defeat the high-riding Back Cedaraps.

ANDERSEN, while playing a terriffic game off the boards, chipped in with 10 points. Milt Ebert and Ben Hilgers topped the club in scoring with 12 markers apiece.

Trailing 31-28 at halftime, the Cedaraps came up with two big scoring periods in the third and fourth cantos to decide the contest.

Two Reach Quarters

St. Augustine, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Judd Brumley, defending champion, and Edward R. Randall, runnerup last year, advanced yesterday to the quarterfinals of the American Seniors Golf Association tournament. another favorite, former champion Tom Robbins, was ousted. John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, eliminated Robbins in 26 holes, the longest match in the history of the tournament for golfers 55 and older. Roberts won when he pitched close to the pin for a birdie 4 on the 480-yard 26th hole. His Larchmont, N. Y., opponent's putt for a birdie hung on the edge.

Lakers Keep Hopes Alive In Overtime

(By The Associated Press)

The Minneapolis Lakers today still were in a last stand against the Fort Wayne Pistons in the National Basketball Assn. after winning an overtime game, 99-91, last night.

The win, at Minneapolis, was the first for the Lakers in the western division playoffs and the second extra time session in two nights.

Fort Wayne, western leader for the season, has a 2-1 edge in the five-game series. The fourth game is scheduled in Minneapolis Sunday night. A fifth game, if necessary, will be played at Indianapolis Tuesday.

IN THE EASTERN series, the Syracuse Nats and Boston Celtics come to grips at Syracuse tonight with the Nats a 1-0 leader to date. Winner of that series takes on the Fort Wayne-Minneapolis survivor for the NBA crown long held by the Lakers.

But they rebounded for a whopping 15 in the overtime after Whitey Skoog hit for a pair of free throws in the final five seconds to end regulation play in an 84-84 knot.

George Yardley paced the Pistons with 25 and Skoog had 24 points for the winners.

Big Inning Still Yankee Trademark

(By The Associated Press)

Them Yankees, suh, are at it again. They still carry that old trademark—the big inning.

The New Yorkers, who got some extraordinary charity from Washington pitchers, romped through an eight-run eighth inning to knock off the Senators 10-4 yesterday.

It all began when Maury McDermott, who finished only 11 of 26 games he started for Washington last season, tried to go all the way for the first time this spring. And until he ran afoul of the erratic eighth he was doing a good job.

McDermott had the Yanks nibbling through the first seven innings, setting them down on four singles. The Yanks got themselves a pair of runs, one of which was unearned, but trailed 4-2 after seven. Then they spit out the hook.

WASHINGTON'S stringbean lefty walked three of the four men he faced in the eighth, giving up a single to the other, Mickey Mantle.

A youngster named Bob Ross, up from Chattanooga and also a southpaw, came on then and forced in a run by hitting Bill Skowron. Then he pushed another home by walking Bob Cerv.

The Yanks then took over in their old style. Gil McDougald cleared the bases with a triple and Billy Hunter singled before a doubleplay was accomplished by the Nats. Joe Collins closed the sniping with his first spring home run.

It was the Yanks' seventh victory in their last nine games and gave them a 7-6 record. The Nats are 6-5.

THE FIRST SERIOUS injury of the exhibition season showed up when Boston shortstop Milt Bolfing suffered a chipped bone in his left elbow in a second base collision with St. Louis catcher Dick Rank. Bolling, who Manager Pinky Higgins had installed as the Red Sox' No. 1 man at short, will be out from six to eight weeks.

Owen Friend replaced Bolling and committed three errors that gave the Cardinals three unearned runs in their 5-4 victory. St. Louis got eight of its nine hits off Leo Kiely, then went stagnant as Ike Delock stretched his scoreless string to 10 innings over the last four frames.

MURRY DICKSON and rookie Jim Owens handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves on two hits for a 3-1 victory by the Philadelphia Phillies. The Braves had averaged a home run a game until they met the Phils, but had to get a pair of walks and a Jimmy Logan single to score their run off Dickson.

It was 1-1 until the ninth when Del Ennis drove in the tiebreaker with a triple and scored himself on an error.

Detroit also got good pitching. Ned Garver, George Zuverink and Bob Schultz gave Cincinnati just six singles to win 5-1. Red Wilson drove in three of the Tiger runs with a sacrifice fly and a bases-loaded single.

But it was a hitter's day as Brooklyn clobbered the Kansas City Athletics 15-4. Don Newcombe looked good pitching five strong innings for the Brooks while Carl Furill, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella contributed heavily to 17-hit support. Furillo got four hits, Reese drove in four runs with two safeties and Campanella hit a pair of doubles and a single.

Pittsburgh got over a three-run hump in the ninth to beat the Chicago White Sox 7-6. A double by Jack Shepard followed a pair of singles to cut the Pirates' deficit to 6-4, and Preston Ward pinched a three-run homer to complete the rally.

OUT WEST, the New York Giants evened their spring series with the Cleveland Indians at 5-all, smacking Bob Lemon for six runs in the second and third innings for a 9-4 decision. Wes Westrum got it started in the second, making one of his infrequent homers good for three runs.

The Chicago Cubs and Baltimore Orioles were idle.

Sport Car Rally Climb Set for Windham in May

Elaborate plans already are underway for a two-day sports car rally climb over a 100-mile route on Mt. Pisgah in Windham May 14 and 15, according to Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Baron.

The Mt. Pisgah hill climb will be run under similar Sports Car Club of America regulations and only competition-licensed drivers will compete.

Improvement and conditioning of the previous inaccessible Mt. Pisgah road already have started of the big sports attraction in May.

THE PLANS include grading, surfacing and curve corrections and it is hoped that this work will be completed to reach the 3,000-foot level by May 10, to be in readiness for test and time trials which are mandatory under the SCCA competition rules.

According to the Barons, who recently attended a meeting of the SCCA in Westchester county, improvements are planned for the course from year to year in order to create a permament national hill climb site for sports cars to rank with the finest such sites in the east, including Mt. Washington and Mt. Equinox.

All drivers in the hill-climb will be required to wear full racing gear, crash helmets, goggles and safety belts.

Elaborate precautions also will be taken for the safety of spectators. No spectators will be allowed within 20 feet of the course at any point and all viewing points are selected to insure a continuance of the perfect safety record which the club has enjoyed for seven years.

THE FOLLOWING committee workers have ben appointed to prepare for the event in May:

C. D. Lane, accommodations and reception; Leonard Fancher and Michael Sokoll, car services; Robert I. Baron, F. Edward Dickopf, activities and publicity; Mrs. Santa M. Barton and Mrs. Eleanor M. Lane, victory banquet and entertainment; Harry V. Newland, financial; Harold Bailey and Donald Crandell, communications.

KHS Stars Added To Lineup for Y Champion Five

Harry's Angels, winners of the YMCA Basketball League title this year, strengthened by the addition of two of the 1955 Kingston High School cage stars, make their first appearance in the second annual Kingston Basketball Tournament tonight at municipal auditorium against the Hudson Knights of Columbus.

Game time is 7:30 o'clock.

Sparked by the Y loop's high scorer, Champ Holstein, the Angels have come up with Skip Brodhead and Ray Lawrence from the KHS roster in addition to Randy Seigel, New Paltz College basketeer.

THE ANGELS, who won their first game Monday night in the Hudson Valley Tourament in Poughkepsie, also will have available Bud Scheffel, a tremendous rebounder and Ward Dunham, captain and playmaker of the team.

Johnny Godwin, another erstwhile Maroon and White star, now at New Paltz, also will be in the lineup for the Angels.

Hudson, comprising a strong squad of veterans, will have Steve Omelanckuk and Paul Miller, two of the team's top scorers. Willie Troy, veteran player with the Hudson Elks; Wilson Shea and Ed Sullivan round out the starting five for Hudson.

TONIGHT'S SECOND GAME, scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, will feature Otisville and Harlem Valley of Dover Plains.

Otisville, last year's surprise in the local tournament, comes in this year with an even better squad. In the 1954 competition, Otisville was given little chance of surviving the first round but went on to surprise everyone with a fourth place finish.

Jerry Ketcham, crack scorer for the Otisville High School team, has been added to the roster while Bob Walker and Roy Walker, John Clausman and Jay Decker are back from the 1954 entry.

DOVER PLAINS is composed of high school aces. The Plainsmen, also entered in the Poughkeepsie tournament, defeated Ketterson Motors of Newburgh in their initial outing.

The squad is led by Vinnie Salas, a six foot, four inch Dutchess all-county player from Roosevelt High. Bob Scott, also all-county player from Dover Plains High, Tom Frost, all-county player from Roosevelt High; Larry Colligan, the team's top rebounder; Phil Taber and Bob Callahan round out an impressive array of players.

After tonight's doubleheader, tournament action is scheduled for next Tuesday night with the Poughkeepsie Trabassos meeting Sickler's Delivery and the Pine Plains Bombardiers, last year's winners, engaging the Reddy Kilowatts of Newburgh. Empire Diner, winner over Cairo Legion in the first round, will meet Lincoln Center of Poughkeepsie March 31 at 7:30 and Cornwall will play the Ketterson Pistons at 8:30 o'clock that night.

U.S. Holds Big Lead In Games

Mexico City, March 24 (AP)—Action packed finals in six events kept the Pan-American swimming and diving scene humming today, with the United States far in front in points and continuing its domination in the overall picture of these 1955 Little Olympics.

Mexico's superb Joaquin Capilla was favored to capture the 10-meter platform diving crown to go with his 3-meter title, and Patricia McCormick of the U. S. was expected to duplicate the feat in the women's diving.

The U. S. also held strong candidates in the women's 200 meter breastroke, 100 backstroke and 400 freestyle relay and in the men's 100 freestyle.

THE UNOFFICIAL POINTS for the U. S. in swimming and diving, including victories in the 400-meter freestyle and 100-meter backstroke yesterday, stood:

The U. S. 106, Argentina 40, Mexico 29, Canada 23, and Brazil 12, to list the major teams. This was for nine events, with nine to go.

The story was even more resounding for the games as a whole. The count: U. S. 1,260½, Argentina 523½, Mexico 337.

Swimming and diving competition occupied most of the international interest. These events wind up late tomorrow.

Determined Jimmy McLane of the U. S. Army and ex-Olympic games hero, became the first U. S. double gold medal winner when he won the 400 meter freestyle yesterday, beating out teammate Wayne Moore, and Argentina's Oscar Kramer, and breaking the games' record.

McLANE, WHO or may not point for a place in his third Olympics next year, swam the distance in 4:51.3, beating the 4:52.4 made by Tetsuo Okamato of Brazil in 1951.

Furgol in Field

Ed Furgol, U. S. Open golf champion, entered the 1955 British Open championship, it was announced in New York today. Furgol's entry was accepted for the July 3-4 Open to be played over the old course at St. Andrew's in Scotland.

Andersen Excels With Rebounding; Cedaraps Score

Accord, ninth place team in the YMCA Basketball League standings, registered a 50 to 36 upset over the Blacktops Wednesday night, thanks to some terrific rebounding by Andy Andersen.

The victory was all the more outstanding when considering the Blacktops have been the only team this year to defeat the high-riding Back Cedaraps.

ANDERSEN, while playing a terriffic game off the boards, chipped in with 10 points. Milt Ebert and Ben Hilgers topped the club in scoring with 12 markers apiece.

The Cederaps, meanwhile, added the Skylines to their long list of conquests, with a 63 to 54 triumph.

Trailing 31-28 at halftime, the Cedaraps came up with two big scoring periods in the third and fourth cantos to decide the contest.

Two Reach Quarters

St. Augustine, Fla., March 24 (AP)—Judd Brumley, defending champion, and Edward R. Randall, runnerup last year, advanced yesterday to the quarterfinals of the American Seniors Golf Association tournament. another favorite, former champion Tom Robbins, was ousted. John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, eliminated Robbins in 26 holes, the longest match in the history of the tournament for golfers 55 and older. Roberts won when he pitched close to the pin for a birdie 4 on the 480-yard 26th hole. His Larchmont, N. Y., opponent's putt for a birdie hung on the edge.

Lakers Keep Hopes Alive In Overtime

(By The Associated Press)

The Minneapolis Lakers today still were in a last stand against the Fort Wayne Pistons in the National Basketball Assn. after winning an overtime game, 99-91, last night.

The win, at Minneapolis, was the first for the Lakers in the western division playoffs and the second extra time session in two nights.

Fort Wayne, western leader for the season, has a 2-1 edge in the five-game series. The fourth game is scheduled in Minneapolis Sunday night. A fifth game, if necessary, will be played at Indianapolis Tuesday.

IN THE EASTERN series, the Syracuse Nats and Boston Celtics come to grips at Syracuse tonight with the Nats a 1-0 leader to date. Winner of that series takes on the Fort Wayne-Minneapolis survivor for the NBA crown long held by the Lakers.

But they rebounded for a whopping 15 in the overtime after Whitey Skoog hit for a pair of free throws in the final five seconds to end regulation play in an 84-84 knot.

George Yardley paced the Pistons with 25 and Skoog had 24 points for the winners.

Big Inning Still Yankee Trademark

(By The Associated Press)

Them Yankees, suh, are at it again. They still carry that old trademark—the big inning.

The New Yorkers, who got some extraordinary charity from Washington pitchers, romped through an eight-run eighth inning to knock off the Senators 10-4 yesterday.

It all began when Maury McDermott, who finished only 11 of 26 games he started for Washington last season, tried to go all the way for the first time this spring. And until he ran afoul of the erratic eighth he was doing a good job.

McDermott had the Yanks nibbling through the first seven innings, setting them down on four singles. The Yanks got themselves a pair of runs, one of which was unearned, but trailed 4-2 after seven. Then they spit out the hook.

WASHINGTON'S stringbean lefty walked three of the four men he faced in the eighth, giving up a single to the other, Mickey Mantle.

A youngster named Bob Ross, up from Chattanooga and also a southpaw, came on then and forced in a run by hitting Bill Skowron. Then he pushed another home by walking Bob Cerv.

The Yanks then took over in their old style. Gil McDougald cleared the bases with a triple and Billy Hunter singled before a doubleplay was accomplished by the Nats. Joe Collins closed the sniping with his first spring home run.

It was the Yanks' seventh victory in their last nine games and gave them a 7-6 record. The Nats are 6-5.

THE FIRST SERIOUS injury of the exhibition season showed up when Boston shortstop Milt Bolfing suffered a chipped bone in his left elbow in a second base collision with St. Louis catcher Dick Rank. Bolling, who Manager Pinky Higgins had installed as the Red Sox' No. 1 man at short, will be out from six to eight weeks.

Owen Friend replaced Bolling and committed three errors that gave the Cardinals three unearned runs in their 5-4 victory. St. Louis got eight of its nine hits off Leo Kiely, then went stagnant as Ike Delock stretched his scoreless string to 10 innings over the last four frames.

MURRY DICKSON and rookie Jim Owens handcuffed the Milwaukee Braves on two hits for a 3-1 victory by the Philadelphia Phillies. The Braves had averaged a home run a game until they met the Phils, but had to get a pair of walks and a Jimmy Logan single to score their run off Dickson.

It was 1-1 until the ninth when Del Ennis drove in the tiebreaker with a triple and scored himself on an error.

Detroit also got good pitching. Ned Garver, George Zuverink and Bob Schultz gave Cincinnati just six singles to win 5-1. Red Wilson drove in three of the Tiger runs with a sacrifice fly and a bases-loaded single.

But it was a hitter's day as Brooklyn clobbered the Kansas City Athletics 15-4. Don Newcombe looked good pitching five strong innings for the Brooks while Carl Furill, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella contributed heavily to 17-hit support. Furillo got four hits, Reese drove in four runs with two safeties and Campanella hit a pair of doubles and a single.

Pittsburgh got over a three-run hump in the ninth to beat the Chicago White Sox 7-6. A double by Jack Shepard followed a pair of singles to cut the Pirates' deficit to 6-4, and Preston Ward pinched a three-run homer to complete the rally.

OUT WEST, the New York Giants evened their spring series with the Cleveland Indians at 5-all, smacking Bob Lemon for six runs in the second and third innings for a 9-4 decision. Wes Westrum got it started in the second, making one of his infrequent homers good for three runs.

The Chicago Cubs and Baltimore Orioles were idle.

Sport Car Rally Climb Set for Windham in May

Elaborate plans already are underway for a two-day sports car rally climb over a 100-mile route on Mt. Pisgah in Windham May 14 and 15, according to Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Baron.

The Mt. Pisgah hill climb will be run under similar Sports Car Club of America regulations and only competition-licensed drivers will compete.

Improvement and conditioning of the previous inaccessible Mt. Pisgah road already have started of the big sports attraction in May.

THE PLANS include grading, surfacing and curve corrections and it is hoped that this work will be completed to reach the 3,000-foot level by May 10, to be in readiness for test and time trials which are mandatory under the SCCA competition rules.

According to the Barons, who recently attended a meeting of the SCCA in Westchester county, improvements are planned for the course from year to year in order to create a permament national hill climb site for sports cars to rank with the finest such sites in the east, including Mt. Washington and Mt. Equinox.

All drivers in the hill-climb will be required to wear full racing gear, crash helmets, goggles and safety belts.

Elaborate precautions also will be taken for the safety of spectators. No spectators will be allowed within 20 feet of the course at any point and all viewing points are selected to insure a continuance of the perfect safety record which the club has enjoyed for seven years.

THE FOLLOWING committee workers have ben appointed to prepare for the event in May: C. D. Lane, accommodations and reception; Leonard Fancher and Michael Sokoll, car services; Robert I. Baron, F. Edward Dickopf, activities and publicity; Mrs. Santa M. Barton and Mrs. Eleanor M. Lane, victory banquet and entertainment; Harry V. Newland, financial; Harold Bailey and Donald Crandell, communications.

The steering committee includes Robert I. Baron, C. D. Lane and Edward Dickopf.

They eliminated Nancy Norton of Naugatuck, Conn., and Mrs. Arthur Hills of Winchester, Mass., 6-1 and 6-4.

Pastrano Outpoints Andrews

Chicago, March 24 (AP)—A handsome youngster from New Orleans may become the new darling of television's fight fans.

Willie Pastrano, 19, made his first appearance on the national network last night at Chicago Stadium and proved quite a fancy Dan as he gracefully pirouetted to an unanimous 10 round victory over Al Andrews.

Pastrano lacks knockout power, but the clean-cut teen-ager seems to have an instinctive ring cleverness that makes him a difficult target. He certainly confused the well-meaning, lunging Andrews from Superior, Wis., and St. Paul.

HE ALSO HAS a deft left—jabbing or hooking equally well with it—and a savage right uppercut. He's still young enough to learn how to set himself for more leverage and thus more power.

The International Boxing Club is scanning the field of top quality middleweights for a choice to match against Pastrano in another television show at Chicago Stadium April 22.

The opponent could well be Ralph "Tiger" Jones. The battle-wise Jones in two recent Chicago Stadium showings, reclaimed recognition by disposing of Sugar Ray Robinson and putting up rugged and bloody resistance while losing to champion Bobo Olson.

Giants Signs Ziegler

Frank Ziegler, halfback, has been signed to play in 1955, the New York Football Giants announced Wednesday. Ziegler, the 36th Giant to come to terms, was a former first stringer with the Philadelphia Eagles. He came to the Giants in a trade last winter.

BIGGER THAN 'DA PREEM' — South African heavyweight Ewart Frederick Potgieter, seven-feet-two and 310 pounds, spars with trainer Johnny Holt in Johannesburg. He has won five bouts, none of which went over two rounds.

'54 Rules Carry Over

State Trout Season Will Open April 9

Albany, March 24—Trout fishermen in New York who have fidgitted through the winter, replacing loose ferules, rewinding guides and varnishing rods, can now add the finishing touch—put a red circle on the calendar around April 9, the state-wide opening of the 1955 trout season. Or, Conservation spokesmen said today, if they can't wait that long, they can hie themselves to central New York where, in a number of Finger Lakes tributaries including famed Catharine creek, the season for all species of trout opens April 1.

Except for Lakes Gleneida and Gilead in Putnam county where the lake trout season opens April 9, April 1 also is the season opener for lake trout, landlocked salmon and whitefish throughout the state and for rainbow trout in Cayuga, Seneca, Canandaigua, Keuka, Skaneatles, Owasco and Otisco Lakes.

IT WAS POINTED OUT also, that trout fishermen in New York wouldn't need to be concerned this year with major changes in the Conservation Law on trout seasons, creel or size limits. The department's 1954 Fishing Guide can be followed, they said, by simply correcting the state-wide opening date for trout from April 10 to April 9 this year.

Department spokesmen added that the 1955 Fishing Guide would be published for general distribution as soon as possible following adjournment of the Legislature and Governor Harriman's action on any bills affecting fishing regulations.

Light on Parking

St. Peter's, Two St. Mary's Clubs Win in CYO Tournament

St. Peter's A and St. Mary's registered victories in the junior division and St. Mary's of Saugerties in the metropolitan division of the annual Catholic Youth Organization basketball tournament at municipal auditorium Wednesday night.

St. Peter's, hopping off to a fast lead in the first two quarters, posted a 49 to 37 victory over St. Colman's of Kingston.

A seven-point final period gave St. Mary's a 30-28 squeaker win over the Immaculate Conception quintet. The IC five led all the way going into the final period before the Saints pulled away.

Will Cragan canned nine points to lead St. Mary's while Tom Gorman nudged in 10 for Immaculate Conception.

St. Mary's of Saugerties led by 12-4 over St. Peter's at the first quarter and were never threatened from then on in to win, 55-29.

Givens (R-Stamford), author of a bill to outlaw the Communist party in Connecticut, has told a legislative committee the state is in "critical condition in so far as the organization of a Communist party is concerned." Givens, testifying in behalf of his own bill before the General Assembly's Judiciary Committee yesterday, said he was referring to the pending case of seven Connecticut Communist party members charged with conspiracy to teach or advocate the overthrow of the government. He said his proposal "is a much needed law."

Cancel Conference

Seattle, March 24 (AP)—Seven scientists, holding that the University of Washington has placed itself "outside the community of scholars" by banning Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer from the campus, have forced cancellation of a scientific conference. The action of the seven men was disclosed yesterday when the university department of biochemistry announced a "symposium on the molecular basis of enzyme action" would not be held here April 7-8 as planned. More than 200 scientists from all parts of the country had been expected to attend the conference which the seven were to attend as guest lecturers.

Givens, testifying in behalf of his own bill before the General Assembly's Judiciary Committee yesterday, said he was referring to the pending case of seven Connecticut Communist party members charged with conspiracy to teach or advocate the overthrow of the government. He said his proposal "is a much needed law."

Cancel Conference

Seattle, March 24 (AP)—Seven scientists, holding that the University of Washington has placed itself "outside the community of scholars" by banning Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer from the campus, have forced cancellation of a scientific conference. The action of the seven men was disclosed yesterday when the university department of biochemistry announced a "symposium on the molecular basis of enzyme action" would not be held here April 7-8 as planned. More than 200 scientists from all parts of the country had been expected to attend the conference which the seven were to attend as guest lecturers.

Millerton Has $350,000 Fire

Millerton, March 24 (AP)—Fire destroyed a four-story brick building here last night and a plucky telephone operator, who stayed on the job until the last minute, had to be carried out by firemen.

The blaze, of undetermined origin, left only a blackened shell of a department store on the first two floors, the local exchange of the Copake Telephone Co. on the third, and law and dentists' offices on the top floor. Damage wwas estimated at $350,000.

THERE WERE NO injuries. It took seven fire companies, including some from nearby Connecticut, to fight the blaze. Trains on the New York Central's Harlem Division were backed up for hours until the fire was brought under control.

Staying at her switchboard through most of the fire was Mrs. Mildred Moss, who spread the alarm throughout this eastern Dutchess county area and to neighboring Connecticut.

The fire knocked out phone service for miles around. Repair crews from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Torrington, Conn., set up a temporary exchange in a nearby bakery.
